FOOLED THE CROWD,

Mr. Faxon arrived rather late, and as he took a seat, the The smell hung about the building all speaker, Thomas J. Gargan, recognized him, and said: "I am glad to see Mr. Faxon, for I would not feel that I was in a Democratic gathering if he wer not here."

"Thank you," said Mr. Faxon, "I am always glad to be in good company." It was not until Christopher T. Calla Mr. Faxon took active part. He rose as if to speak, but was loudly hooted. Meanwhile, Mr. Callahan had started to leave the stage, but stopped and returned, as if to reply to any question asked by Mr. Faxon. The audience apparently interpreted Mr. Faxon's actions as a desire to interrupt the rally, and catcalls and cries of "put him out" drowned the cries of Chairman Burke for order.

The disturbance was a lively one, and Officer Newcomb walked to where Mr. Faxon was gesticulating.

A few of the audience sided with the officer, for there were cries of "Put him out," as the officer moved towards Mr Faxon.

At this point Congressman Naphen called to the officer in a voice that could be heard above the noise, "I protest against such action, and I insist that he be heard." Mr. Naphen's words had a quieting effect on the audience, and Mr. Faxon had the floor. He said: "You have said, Mr. Callahan, that Mr. Gargan, who preceded you, had said that there was but one issue in this campaign There are two issues. How does the Democratic party stand on the canteer question? For or against the canteen?" There was another ripple of excitement in the audience, and again a few cries to put him out. Mr. Callahan motioned for order, and said: "I guarantee, Mr. Faxon, in the event of Mr. Bryan being our next president he wi eabinet an attorney general who will enforce the anti-canteen law, regardless of the interests of the brewery and whisky syndicates.'

Mr. Faxon replied that he was opposed to the Republican party because of its non-inforcement of the anti-canteen law, and that he would not support any member of that party who was in sympathy with the administration's policy on the question.

First Church Fair.

The ladies of First church are more which they held yesterday afternoon and evening in the chapel.

From the opening of the doors in the afternoon and until after supper, there was a steady stream of purchas ers, the late comers finding almost empty tables. The sale closed early in the evening as everything was sold out The fancy table had many beautiful things, and the sales on this table amounted to nearly three hundred dollars. The utility table also did a rushing business, taking in over a hundred dollars. The other tables all did well there being good demands for home made candy, pitchers and plates, bags, home made cake and preserves, pottery and children's notions.

Sermons on the Bible.

The First Presbyterian church was filled last Sunday evening to hear the first of Dr. Todd's Sunday evening sermons on "The Bible." The topic was, "When was the Bible Written?" He showed the approximate age of the various books of the Bible by their style, thought and contents; by the characteristics of the writers revealed therein, and from histories written during the same periods. He quoted liberally from modern archaelogists, characteristics of the writers revealed liberally from modern archaelogists, and oriental scholars whose recent discoveries and writings of a historic character bear ample testimony to the ble that President Kurger will visit protection, and after criticising the and make ridiculous the infantile theory of sceptics that, "the Bible is either a fable or a myth."

The subject was made interesting as well as most instructive to all by the plain Anglo-Saxon speech of the preacher. Many expressions of comnendation were heard at the close.

The subject of the next sermon of the series is "Who Wrote the Bible?"

SOUND MONEY DEMOCRATS

Who Believe McKinley's Election Would Continue Beneficial Conditions.

"I shall vote for McKinley this year," said H. F. Hurlburt, in reply to a question as to his preference in the presidential election. "I have always been a Democrat and I voted for Palmer and Buckner four years ago. The Democrats this year, however, have injected the anti-imperialist issue into the platform to cover up the Chicago platform of 1896, and that platform no gold Democrat could indorse. Personally, I elieve, moreover, in the retention of the Philippines. The only business way out administration has been compelled to

"Mr. Bryan said four years ago that der any emergency, war, for example, He has proved a false prophet. Upon McKinley's election four years ago money which had been hoarded in fear was released and the country entered upon a season of great prosperity; and although I would by no means attribute the good times of the past few years wholly to the Republican party, I am very sure that if Mr. Bryan were elected in November a change in business conditions would ensue which would not be for the better. On the other hand, the election of McKinley would continue the beneficial conditions which developed after his election in 1896."

J. D. Crimins the well-known labor rather a mysterious one. statistician of New York, says: "To vote for Bryan is, in my judgment, to vote for populism, the destruction of the country's and the workingmen's best interests. The only alternative is to vote for McKinley and Roosevelt. There is no third ticket, no Democratic banner under which sound money Democrats may form and fight. "Four years ago I voted for Palmer and Buckner. This year I shall cast my ballot for McKinley and Roosevelt, Such I believe to be the present duty of those Democrats who maintained party allegiance and yet supported their princi-

OPPOSED TO VIOLENCE

But Democrats Are Prepared to Adopt Harsh Measures If Necessary.

Croker's Suggestion Receives Endorsement of Jones.

Would Throw Judges Into Street If Returns Do Not Tally With Democrats' Count.

Chicago, Nov. 1 .- The arrival of Mr. Bryan in Chicago is awaited with much interest. Cook county contains the possibility of losing two congressional districts to the Democrats. These districts are the Second, Lorimer's, and the Sixth, Boutelle's, where there have been Republican quarrels. . The Republicans will endeavor to counteract Bryan's final efforts in Chicago by a great outpouring of speakers of their own party.

Senator Jones, chairman of the Democratic national committee, speaking of Mr Croker's recent suggestion that "Democratic voters congregate about the polling places on the evening of election day, count numbers, and then, if the election returns for Bryan do not tally with their count, go into the polling places and throw those fellows in charge of the returns into the street." said: "I don't see anything wrong with that suggestion.

"Senator Hill, I believe, suggested a baseball bat as being peculiarly appropriate to render justice to a corrupt election judge. In my opinion, the best way is for Democrats to be at the polls when they are oponed and to remain here in good, strong relays until the ount is completed. It should be the duty of these Democrats to watch the judges and the count and to see to it that no fraud is committed, and if any fraud is attempted to stop it then and

"The Democratic party is opposed to iolence, but at the same time I feel war ranted in saying that the Democrats fully ntend to reap the fruits of their vic tory. If intimidation is attempted at the polls or fraudulent counting tried by the election judges, there will be Democrats in the vicinity ready to take just such action as may be necessary to stop it.

"There will be neither intimidation at the polls, ballotbox stuffing nor fraudulent counting this year. If either is attempted it will be stopped then and there. If anyone gets hurt in this pro cess of prevention I hope it will not be the honest man who is doing his duty fairly and well. The Democrats have The old man won't risk them with made an honest campaign. We have appealed to the heads and hearts of the American people. We have won the fight, and, by Heaven, we will not be defrauded out of our victory by the chicanery of election judges. If our Republican friends will be honest there will be no trouble, but intimidation a the polls or attempted dishonesty in the counts will be met by such methods as may be necessary and entirely effective.

Bivan on Cho Circuit.

Cincinnati, Nov. 1.-W. J. Bryan last night made his first speech here of the present campaign. He arrived at 8 o'clock, and went direct to Music Hall where he talked for an hour. Judson der President Cleveland, presided at the meeting, and there were many othe rominent men present.

Judge Harmon spoke at length in in roducing Mr. Bryan. Referring to the Philippines he charged that the instruc tions to the commissioners who went to dictate terms of peace to Spain had been changed after the negotiations began but that the people had the right to know what those instuctions were. The day was spent entirely in this state, and the itinerary covered the country between this city and Toledo. Be ginning with an hour's speech at Toledo at 10 o'clock in the morning, Mr. Bryan spoke in succession at Wauseon, Na ooleon, Ottawa, Lima, Wapakoneta, Sydney, Piqua, Troy, Dayton, Hamilton and College Corner. With the excepdon of the Toledo speech none of the others of the day exceeded 25 minutes n length, and six of them were of only five minutes' duration each. A majority of the places where stops were made were were not large. There were, however, fine audiences at Toledo, Wauseon, Piqua, Dayton and College Corner, as well as here.

Teddy Enjoyed the Spanking.

Niagara Falls, N. Y., Nov. 1.-When the Roosevelt train stopped to be switched at the Tenth street crossing at Niagara Falls a number of people gathered about the governor's car, and the usual crowd of boys. The governor came out and bowed, and the boys shouted "Hurrah for Bryan," and one of the men picked up one particularly loudvoiced little fellow and gave him a spanking, which surprised the boy more than it hurt him. This the governor seemed to enjoy. He thanked the man. The man began to apologize for it, but the governor smilingly informed him he had six children himself and he knew what children were, and added: "I don't blame the children. If their parents did what you have done it would be for their The incident only took a mingood." ute, and the train then proceeded on its

Hanna Whacks at Bryan.

Fort Wayne, Ind., Nov. 1.-Senator Hanna spoke to two large audiences here last night. His argument was addressed o workingmen, being confined solely to the prosperity issue. He accused Mr. Bryan of utter hypocrisy, and in the last days of the campaign of desperation in attempting to raise class animosity and array workingmen against their employers. His arraignment of Mr. Bryan Ward 6-Music Hall, Newbury was very severe, and it followed his declaration that he had been the butt of Mr. Bryan's ridicule, sarcasm and vituperation for four years, and that now, before Mr. Bryan's retirement to private life, he proposed to give him a few parting shots.

A REMARKABLE CRIME

Revealed by the Confession of Jones, the Valet of Millionaire Rice.

Unburdening of His Mind Followed by an Attempt at Suicide.

New York, Nov. 2.-Charles F. Jones,

Patrick was pressing it down with his right hand. Patrick did not see me, and, of course, Mr. Rice could not. After seeing what I had seen, I went and doctor.' I went for one. Mr. Miller of the firm of Hornblower & Byrne, was at the prison ward at hour. Jones, he said, was unnerved and broken. He lay in his cot and sobbed kill himself, as he had a better oportunity to do it than he (Patrick), as here was another man in the cell with Patrick. Miller said that Jones further quoted Patrick as saying: "What can I do, I have two children and what will become of them in case I am tried and this found out."

The district attorney said the state did not care to discuss the estate, but rather Rice's death.

Appointment of Lard Selborne to Admiralty

Has Given Rise to Criticism. London, Nov. 2.-Queen Victoria has approved the appointment of Lord Salisbury as premier and lord privy seal; the Marquis of Lansdowne as secretary of state for foreign affairs; William St John Broderick, as secretary of state for war; the Earl of Seiborne, as first lord of the admiralty, and C. T. Ritchie, as secretary of state for home affairs.

The new appointments do not excite enthusiasm, but with the exception o that of Lord Lansdowne, they are generally approved. Mr. Ritchie is regarded as an excellent choice. Several other changes are mooted in minor offices, but on the whole, it looks as though Lord Salisbury did not intend any radical innovations.

The appointment of his son-in-law Lord Selborne, who is only 40 years old and without naval experience, to the admiralty, challenges the most criticism The earl has a good reputation, but it is felt that a more distinguished man should have been appointed to such an important post.

AGAINST "PARTITION,"

Powers' Attitude Toward Anglo-German Agreement Is Now on Record.

Coalition Is Enlarged to a Five-Cornered Affair.

Three Nations Withhold Action on the Clause Relating to Certain Possibilities.

Washington, Nov. 2.-Accepting the unofficial version of Russia's answer to the modification of the Anglo-German agreement, the eight interested governments have put themselves unanimously on record for the "open door" and against "partition." All agree to these principals, which have been variously advanced by individual powers before, but first by the United States. The alignment of the powers on the agreement is now complete. Aside from Italy and Austria, whose adherence to the agreement was expected, owing to their political relations with Germany, Japan is the only one of the powers which has given unconditional assent to the

As the matter now stands, five of the oowers are united in all the terms of the agreement, viz: Great Britain, Germany, Italy, Austria and Japan; three of the powers, United States, France and Russia, accept the clauses relating to the open door, and the territorial inegrity of China, but withhold action on the third clause to future procedur n case any power seizes territory.

Neither the state department nor the

tion of Russia's answer, though the Associated Press, in its London dispatches, announced that the reply had been received at the British foreign office on Oct. 30, and unreservedly accepted the first two clauses. In regard to the third clause, Russia referred the two conracting parties to the Russian circular of April 25, saying that she would modify her attitude according to circumstances The chief effect of the exchange of views has been to bring five of the powers Clothiers, Hatters and Furnishers, o an agreement to respect the "ope loor" and the integrity of China, and o consult among themselves as to a future course in case any of the other powers sought to take Chinese territory. These "other powers," as the negotiaions have been shaped, are the United States, France and Russia. As to the United States, there is, of course, no possibility of an initiative in taking terriory, so that the terms of the third clause would apply to France and Russia, and would tend to bring about concurrent. action of the five powers, in case either of these two sought to extend their domain in China.

No trouble from these two powers is anticipated, however, for Russia and France having taken the same position respecting the principles of the Anglo-German agreement as the other powers, those principles are now regarded as binding upon all the powers interested n China. The determination of Russia, France and the United States to treat the mooted third clause as simply for the governments of England and Germany ioes not in the least invalidate the agreenent for the maintenance of territorial ntegrity and the open door, in the udgment of the administration leaders. By those well qualified to judge, it is now held that international negotiations over the Chinese settlement have now been so outlined by the general acceptance of the principles of the Anglo-German agreement and some of the proposals of the French and Russian notes, that they can be carried on with comparative certainty as to the main con-

To The Voters of Quincy. We respectfully and urgently call upon all Republicans to vote on election day Tuesday, Nov. 6th next. Your City Committee have carefully and persistently urged and obtained a splendid registration in all the Wards. We only need your loyalty to the entire Republican ticket to redeem the 10th Congressional District and place in Congress Dr. George B. Pierce a firm adherent of Sound Money. The importance of a full party vote is manifest from the fact that the Representation from Wards in the various Conventions is based upon the vote cast for the Republican Candidate for Governor.

The Polls will be opened at 6 A. M. and remain open till 4.30 P. M. VOTE EARLY.

How Jones Would Have Democrats Spend Their Time on Tuesday.

Republicans Act on Statement Made by Croker.

Say They Will Protect Voters From Violence Threatened by Democrats.

Chicago, Nov. 2 .- Chairman James K. lones of the Democratic national comnittee, yesterday issued the following address

"To all who favor the republic and opoose the empire

"The election is already won. We now have only to maintain our present posiion. I urge that every man interested n preserving the principles of governnt which have come down to us from he fathers shall consecrate the entire lay on Tuesday next to the great cause. Let each go to the polls early, either singly or as a member of a club, vote romptly and then give the remainder of the day to whatever may be necessary

"Let those who can do so place teams nd vehicles at the disposal of the comnittees to bring the old and infirm to the olls. See that everyone is reminded of the day, and urged to vote.

"Let those whose duty it is to watch he polling and counting do so for every nstant of time from the beginning to he end-from the opening of the ballot box in the morning until the returns are signed at night-and all will be well."

AN ADDRESS FROM REPUBLICANS Declaring That They Will Prevent "Terrorizing

Voters and Burglariz ng Ballot Boxes." New York, Nov. 2.-The Republican naional committee yesterday issued a formal statement to voters, as follows:

"Mr. Croker, the head of the Demoeratic organization in New York has ordered his subordinates to gather in orce at the polls next Tuesday, and in ase they see the result of the count going against them to eject the election officers and take possession of the ballot oxes by force. This astounding anarchistic order has been approved and endorsed by Senator Jones, the chairman of the Democratic national committee.

"The Republican party has always tood squarely for a fair vote and an onest count. A dishonest election is possible only through violence, such as s now threatened by the Democratic eaders, because an equal number of inspectors from both political parties is present at every polling place, and so ong as these inspectors are not interered with the voting must be conducted fairly. The Democratic plan officially declared now is to overpower the inspectors, whenever their party exigenies appear to require violent interfer-

"Notwithstanding the announcement of this Democratic policy of terrorizing oters and burglarizing the ballot boxes, he Republican national committee desires to state to the public that the Remanagers, national, state and ocal, have taken measures to insure the rotection of the rights of every voter in he pending election, and that the votes shall be properly counted and recorded s cast. The committee therefore adonish all voters that they must not be leterred by these threats of the Demoeratic leaders from exercising the right f suffrage on Tuesday next, for every itizen is entitled by law to protection n this, his highest privilege, and we hall see to it that his vote shall also be protected, at all hazards."

"Indiana Safely Democratic." Chicago, Nov. 2 .- "From reports which have come to me and from my own observation, I am satisfied that Indiana s as safely Democratic as is Missouri." Thus spoke Mr. Bryan as he alighted from a train here yesterday afternoon He had just arrived from a tour of the state of Indiana and from a prolonged trip through various states further to the eastward. He added that the general outlook was encouraging, but did not go into details. Mr. Bryan's itnerary yesterday covered a number of oints between Indianopolis and this ity, all of them being in Indiana. Mr. Bryan left the private car Rambler upon his arrival here. He had occupied it 7000 or 8000 miles it it. Mr. Bryan ran into a Republican meeting at Rennseler. and it was evident there was a good deal of McKinley sentiment. Grasping the situation, Mr. Bryan said he regretted the clash of dates, but that he saw ne reason why there should be friction. He bespoke a respectful hearing by Democrats for the Republican speakers. Mr. Bryan yesterday afternoon began his three days' itinerary of this city. He was in excellent voice. He made eight speeches, all of which were made to large

Nothing Sensational Disclosed. Boston, Nov. 2.-Faneuil Hall was rowded last night to hear the startling isclosures which George F. Washburn, President of the Bryan club of Massahusetts, had promised to make, and which at a meeting of the club last week e said would prove a veritable bombshell to the Republican party. The disclosires proved a series of charges conained in letters from someone in Washngton, whose identity was not dislosed, that the administration had not used General Miles justly during the Spanish war, more especially during the ampaign in Cuba and Porto Rico. The rally was enthusiastic, but no especial emonstration greeted the letters, much of the facts in them having been given publicity during the discussions which followed the close of the war.

Eggs Fired at Bryan.

Chicago, Nov. 2.-Four eggs were thrown at Mr. Bryan last night just as he left the Central Turner hall, where he had concluded an address. The eggs vere thrown by three or four young men, one of whom, John R. Myers, was placed under arrest. The other men escaped. ## To The Voters of Quincy.

We respectfully and urgently call upon all Republicans to vote on election day Tuesday, Nov. 6th next. Your City Committee have carefully and persistently urged and obtained a splendid registration in all the Wards. We only need your loyalty to the entire Republican ticket to redeem the 10th Congressional District and place in Congress Dr. George B. Pierce a firm adherent of Sound Money. The importance of a full party vote is manifest from the fact that the Representation from Wards in the various Conventions is based upon the vote cast for the Republican Candidate for Governor.

The Polls will be opened at 6 A. M. and remain open till 4.30 P. M. VOTE EARLY.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

Topic For the Week Beginning Nov. 4-Comment by Rev. S. H. Doyle. Topic .- Are you doing your best?-Math. xxv, THE PARABLE.

In the twenty-fourth chapter of Mat-Make Yourself - Some Pretty and thew Christ spoke of His second Com-Suitable Gifts and How to Con- ing and the destruction of the world. In this chapter He illustrates by parables what His disciples are to do until affair," I replied, and I went on and stated the nature of his crime and the wise and foolish virgins. In the second place, they are to work. This is taught by the parable of the talents, which forms our study. A man took n journey into a far country. Before doing so he called his servants unto him and delivered unto them his goods. To one he gave five talents, to another two, to another one, according to their teveral abilities. These were large sums of money. The man who received five talents used them to the best of his ability and made five talents more. The one who received two talents used them and made two more. But the man who received but one talent negcardboard 4 inches wide and 4% inches account. The two who had faithfully with muslin in the shape of a mush-he had but one talent, if he had made the best of it he, too, would have received commendation and reward.

> THE INTERPRETATION. This parable is not difficult of inthe man who went on the journey A bag to hold a pack of cards is an The servants who received the tal acceptable present for anybody who ents are the disciples of Christ, to cardboard the size of the end of a pack portion to their ability to use them for the earth and his return Christ's sec-Of the many materials that can be ond coming. The judgment, rewards shall come and all His holy angels with Him to judge the earth.

> THE APPLICATION. The parable of the talents teaches plainly that Christ only expects us to do our best, in proportion to our opportunities and abilities. The men who received five and two talents were not rewarded because of the value of their talents, but because they used faithfully what they had. The man who had but one talent was not punished because he had but one talent, but because he failed to use what he had, though it may have been small and insignificant. The one talent man, had he been faithful, would have been as amply rewarded as the five talent man who was faithful. Christ only expects us to do our best, but He does expect us to do that. If we have but one talent, Christ will only require us to account for one talent, but He will require us to account for that. Because our opportunities and abilities may be but small, we cannot afford to neglect them. We will be held as strictly to account as if our talents were many. Let us do our best with two inches longer than the pack of what we have. This is all God asks cards, allowing room for a heading at of any man, but He does demand this District Attorney Wanted Best's Counsel Excluded From Bailey Inquest.

Quite an Argument With Judge Over the Matter.

No N.w Facts Brought Out In Relation to Breakheart Hill Farm Tragedy.

Lynn, Mass., Nov. 3.-The inquest on the death of George E. Bailey, who is thought to have been murdered at the Breakheart Hill farm in North Saugus, on the night of Oct. 8, was begun yesterday before Judge Berry. At the opening there was some sharp talk between District Attorney Peters, for the government, and James H. Sisk, counsel for John C. Best.

Judge Berry said that District Attorney Peters objected to having more than one witness before the court at a time. Sisk thought that counsel for the defense should be present. Peters said that Best was not on trial at the inquest, t being simply an investigation into the death of Bailey. Judge Berry said he would allow Sisk to be present. "I never heard of such a thing before,"

"I do not care to argue, but shall allow Mr. Sisk to be present," said Judge Berry Mr. Peters said he would like a little time to consider what action he would ake, and Judge Berry intimated that he inquest could go on without him.

"If all the things coming up at this inquest become known to the public we cannot find out the facts so well,' Peters continued, and said that if there was anything in the evidence that the supreme court thought Sisk should have a copy of the evidence taken would be placed at the disposal of the counsel fo the defense. Peters said he would op pose giving him a copy of the testimony He said that he did not know whether he was right or not, but he could not believe that he was wrong in the stand he took. Judge Berry asked Peters if he had ever attended a hearing before as distric attorney, and on Peters' replying in the negative, said that he thought so from some of the expressions used by Peters. All but the witnesses, counsel and officers of the court were then excluded and the hearing opened. Winfield Rowe, Mrs. Fred Beede, Miss

Hannah Hawkes, the men who found the remains in the pond, and the officers who dragged the pond and found the head arms and legs, J. H. Mitchell, C. E. Bailey, Jr., J. W. Thomas and others,

Medical Examiner Pinkham testified his opinion that the body had been in the water from eight to ten days when He believed that death was caused on Oct. 8, by two bullets. Charles Derry and his wife told of Bailey's visit to them on the night of Oct.

Charles E. Bailey, Jr., brother of the dead man, furnished identification. Miss Hannah and Miss Henrietta Hawkes told of hearing a wagon make its trip, and then go out again and back late in the morning, and Miss Annie Dwyer told of Best's talk with her about Bailey's disappearance.

H. H. Estes, of I. H. Estes' Sons, grain dealers, testified that his firm sold some grain to Bailey the week before the murder, in bags like the ones in which Bailey's mutilated remains were taken from Floating Bridge pond.

Winfield Rowe, the occasional chor boy at Breakheart Hill farm, went with much detail into the relations that ex isted between Best and Bailey, Bailey's habits matters about the farm, and Best's movements and statements since Bailey's disappearance

The inquest was then adjourned at the request of the district attorney until Nov 16 There are six more witnesse to be examined. Best will be in court on Nov. 8 for a preliminary hearing.

Indications That Murder Was Committed For the Purpose of Robbery.

Tamworth, N. H., Nov. 3.-The body of Ezra Dodge, a life long resident of this town, was found near a stone wall, about tectives out after Moorehouse, and ex- 160 feet from his farmhouse on Hackett hill, so called. Dodge disappeared from his home on Sept. 12.

The farmer lived alone, and as he was in the habit of visiting friends at other places, little notice was taken of his disappearance at first. A casual search of the premises at any time would have resulted in the finding of the body. It is but he showed ignorance of what was in learned that since Dodge's disappearance

Coroner Lougee arrived here yesterday He said Moorehouse, the missing ship- afternoon, and, after making a partial invesigation of the case, he is satisfied that Mr. Dodge was murdered. He found that Mr. Dodge had been struck a terrific blow on the head, and a found in the ruins, said that they had 38-calibre bullet had been fired into his contained analyne oil, which is only a body. The bullet entered the bowels near the floating rib, on the right side Dr. Lougee is of the opinion that the shot would not have caused instant death, but he is positive that the blow on the head was a fatal one. It is thought the man did not see his assailant

when he was struck down. The murderers undoubtedly committed the deed in order to rob Dodge, who generally carried considerable money. Coroner Lougee has learned that Dodge was last seen on Sept. 12, when he went to the store for pork and crackers, shortly after noon, and he was undoubtedly killed that day. A window in the rear of the house was broken, and it is believed when Dodge returned to the house with the purchases he had made he was attacked and killed by someone who had gained an entrance during his brief absence. Coroner Lougee is sure the murder was not committed during the night, as the body is clothed with the apparel worn at the time the man visited the store. The body was found about 160 feet from the house, and had been dragged there by the collar of the coat.

Coroner Lougee impaneled a jury, who will report next Tuesday. It is generally believed that an arrest will be made within a few days, yet there may not be any radical move until the coroner's jury makes its report.

Mr. Dodge's wife left him several years ago, and now resides in Boston. George F. PERIOD OF SUSPENSE NEARLY OVER. Encouraging Signs In Many Branches of the Business World.

New York, Nov. 3 .- R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly review of trade says: The period of suspense is nearly over. Business sumption. Some evidence appears of in the movement of a few standard goods, notably of iron and steel. The actual resumption of operations in the anthracite coal fields has added largely to the working force, and closing down of a few small steel plants is only in the nature of concentrating operations at more advantageous points, and has not much reduced the number of men employed. Encouraging signs multiply in the iron industry. Reports are current that numerous American concerns have contracted for machine shops in Bremen and numerous bridges abroad, including some in Africa.

Full forces are employed at New England shoe shops, and heavy orders insure brisk work for the rest of the year. Prices have not advanced for the finished

Textile operations are more vigorous sales of wool at the three chief eastern markets being 7,804,500 pounds. greater activity there appears a tendency toward firmer prices, and 100 grades on [ Nov. 1 averaged 19.55 cents, according to Coates Bros. of Philadelphia.

Cotton has recovered a little of the recent sharp decline attributed to reports that frost would surely do serious dam-The market does not show much fear of disaster, and there is more reason induced by better purchases of spinners, $7.80 a bale in less than three weeks.

There was also some recovery in wheat, started by the statement that Argentina would not be able to exporfreely this year, because of injury to the growing crop. Corn did not join the advance to any extent, and provisions were generally quiet, except for October pork which compelled traders on the short side to cover contracts at $20 when the month ended. Small concessions are made by exporters of raw sugar.

Failures for the week were 198 in the United States, against 183 last year, and 23 in Canada, against 25 last year.

Ex-Mayor Strong Dead.

New York, Nov. 3.-William L. Strong died suddenly at his residence in West Fifty-seventh street. Mr. Strong had taken an active part in the present campaign, and it is said that his political labors combined with his attempt to retain supervision over his private affairs resulted in undermining his health. Mr. Strong was the last governor of old New York. For three years he administered the affairs of the first city of America and with his retirement, Dec. 17, 1897 that city became Manhattan borough of Greater New York. Mayor Strong was born in Mansfield, O., March 22, 1827. A farmer's boy, he received only a common school education, and his career is directly traceable to his strong will nower and determination, combined with a high conception of commercial probity and executive ability. He was engaged in the wholesale dry goods business.

New York, Nov. 3 .- Robert Elkins, a shipping clerk, was probably fatally wounded yesterday by John Sweet, a Elkins was at work in front | Street. of the store where he works, engaged in marking a case of goods, when Sweet passed him. Elkins was kneeling at the time. He turned his head without seeing Sweet and spat upon him. Be fore Elkins, could rise to explain, Swee drew a revolver and shot him in the neck. Sweet was locked up.

Two Indictments Against Each. New York, Nov. 2 .- The grand jury at Paterson, N. J., yesterday handed up 24 bills of indictment, and among them those of Walter C. McAlister, George J. Kerr, William A. Death and Andrew Campbell, who are charged with the murder of Jennie Bosschieter, who was drugged to death on Oct. 18. There were two indictments against each one of the men, one for murder and the other for rape, the first, it is said, also embrac ing the latter.

Killed Wnite at Play.

New York, Nov. 3.-At Patchogue, L. I., Olive Newton, aged 9, was playing struck his sister in the eye with a stick. The point penetrated the eye socket and pierced the brain, killing her.

Predictions as to the Result Made by Leaders of Both the Great Parties.

Each Side Appears to Be Confident of Victory at Polls.

Claims as to Heads of Tickets and the N.x. House of Representatives.

Chicago, Nov. 5 .- The national committeemen of both parties, who have been in Chicago during the campaign, will go to their several homes to vote Most of them will return immediately to Chicago, to be here when the returns come in. Senator Hanna will vote in Cleveland, Vice Chairman Payne in Milwaukee and Secretary Heath in Muncie, Ind. Senator Jones, the chairman of the Democratic national committee, Executive Committeeman Johnson and Secretary Walsh will remain here, not peing able to go home to vote and get back in time to participate in the headquarters function election night.

Chairman Jones of the Democratic na tional committee furnished the Associated Press with the following state ment, covering the outlook from his

"The fight is won. Bryan and Stevenson will be elected. The Democratic najority in the electoral college will be The Democrats will hold all the tates they carried in 1896, with the possible exception of Wyoming. We will also carry New York, New Yersey, Delaware, Maryland, West Virginia, Kentucky, Indiana, Ohio and Illinois. The chairman of the state committee of California has wired me that we will carry that state by 10,000 majority.

"In a general way, I should say that there would be somewhat of a falling any reasonable doubt. off of Bryan's strength compared with 1896 west of the Mississippi, and that east of the Mississippi he will make overwhelming gains. The campaign has been spirited from the start. The Democrats were somewhat handicapped for want of funds, while the Republicans, as four years ago, had more money than they could use. The Republicans have endeavored to intimidate laboring men and alarm business men, but not with the fierce oppression they brought to bear in 1896. It is my opinion that intimidation has been a failure this year, and that both workingmen and business men will vote according to the dictates of their in him from the Atlantic to the Pacific. and from the northernmost to the southernmost boundaries of the republic." Henry C. Payne, chairman of the excutive committee of the national Republican committee, furnished the Associated Press with the following statement, giving the outlook Tuesday from the Republican standpoint:

"Our latest advices from New York are conclusive that the state will give a large majority for McKinley. Early in the campaign there may have been some question as to the result in Maryland. Mr. Bryan's visit to that state proved injurious ot his cause and there has been great revival of feeling among sound money Democrats, which presages a majority for McKinley of between 5000 and 10,000. As to Ohio, we predict with the greatest confidence a larger majority in the state than was given in 1896. The Republicans will suffer losses in a few of the larger cities in Indiana, but there will be gains among the farmers and the first voters of the young men. It is understood in Indiana that the majority for the Republican ticket will be in excess of 20,000. In the Rocky mountain states those that four years ago went almost solidly for free silver, there has been a revolution in public sentiment, and it wil not be surprising if all or nearly all of them reverse their position of four years ago. It is as certain as anything can be that Kansas, Wyoming, South Dakota and Washington will be carried by the Republicans by decisive majorities, and the states of Nebraska, Utah and Nevada are more likely to give their votes to McKinley than to Bryan. The results of the campaign indicate clearly that the administration of President Mc-Kinley will be sustained by the people and that he will secure a larger vote than in 1896, both of the popular vote and in the electoral college."

"Less Danger of Frauds." Lincoln, Neb., Nov. 5 .- Mr. Bryan arrived home in this city last evening, coming direct from Chicago. Mr. Bryan started this morning upon a flying trip through Nebraska, devoting the last day of the campaign to his own state. Mr. Bryan was asked for a statement as to the probable outcome of the election. made and won. Money and coercion robbed us of a victory in 1896, but I believe they will be powerless to change the result this time. The people are in earnest, and very few can be bought.

"Since then conditions have continue to improve. The Croker-Jones advice to Democrats, suggesting fraud by the Republicans, has done us much good for no one can point to a single instance where a Republican member has been elected by fraud, either in the votes cast or in the count after they were cast, while the majority of the Democratic representation in the house comes from districts where the Republican vote is driven from the polls by the shotgun, or if it is cast it is counted for the Democratic candidate, and the will of the peo ple is defeated.

> Washington, Nov. 5 .- Chairman Richardson of the Democratic national congressional committee made the following statement as to the next house of representatives:

> "We are absolutely certain that the next house will be Democratic. The majority will be a safe one, at least 25. This committee has not deemed it wise to go into detailed estimates showing the districts they are confident of carrying or those they are making a fight for, for the reason that we do not wish to invite greater opposition or arouse the Republicans to concentrate their forces in these districts where our Democratic candidates are making hopeful battle. The wisdom of this must be apparent to every good Democrat, and is certainly appreciated by every intelligent man.

But I want to get 12 out of the 13 congressmen. There are many of you here who live in the 10th district. I want you to redeem it; and if anybody says that the present congressman is an excellent representative, and says: 'He is a very good friend of mine: he is the only man who could get a bridge;' well, I want to say that during last winter I had a very strong impression that I was expected to do something about that bridge. I want to say to you here that the way to get a bridge or a public building or anything else when a Republican administration is in power, as it will be, is for a district to send a Republican representative.

Now the proper and practical solution of this public building and harbor improvements in our growing city, is to elect a Republican member of the next Congress from the 10th District in the splendid young Milton man George B. Pierce.

Republicans Have It in Their Power to Elect Dr. Pierce.

The following address in behalf of Dr. Pierce has been issued by his neighbors, who are well known citizens of Milton:

Voters of the congressional district: We wish to call the attention of every friend of sound money, and every one interested in the continued business prosperity of the country, to the importance of the contest which is now pending in 10th congressional district. Consider for a moment what would be the effect on business if Richardson of Tennessee, or some equally prominent silver man, should be elected the speaker of the next House of Representatives, with the appointment of committees entirely at his disposal.

Think of the agitation that would ensue! Even if such legislation as would be proposed was finally defeated, it would mean perhaps a year of suspense; the public waiting, and in doubt of the final result. Such agitation and suspense must necessarily affect unfavoraably the business interests of the country. Do you realize that the next House of Representatives will be Democratic candidate, is not to be closely divided, and that the re-election relied upon here, while it is equally of many Republican congressmen is in certain that Dr. Pierce is. The district is one of the closest in the state, and is now represented by a Democrat, Henry F. It is of much importance that those who are in favor of protecting the currency shall give 'their suffrages to a man who will vote right on this question. It has been amply Without regard to any other question, upon how this district votes. If it mittees of the House of Representatives It may easily be dependent upon the 10th district to defeat this, so close is the contest for the majority in the next House in many quarters anticipated to be. Surely, here is incentive sufficient to induce any man in favor of sound money to vote for Dr. Pierce. -Herald.

CAMPAIGN ABOUT OVER

While always nominally giving the place of paramount importance in the campaign to the subject of imperialism, Mr. Bryen has devoted more time to trusts than to any other subject. Mr. Bryen's health has improved from the beginning of the tour. The Republic Not In Danger.

Baltimore, Nov. 5 .- Cardinal Gibbons took occasion yesterday to say a few words on the subject of the coming election in his regular monthly sermon to his congregation. The cardinal never takes any active part in politics, but to those who are in his confidence he does not hesitate to express himself freely upon the issues involved in the present contest. He takes the position that there need be no alarm upon the part of anyone over the result of the coming election, and asserts that there is nothing in the situation to warrant the belief that the election of either candidate will in any wise seriously affect the future welfare and prosperity of the American republic.

Debs In the Fight to Stay.

Toledo, Nov. 5 .- Eugene V. Debs will not withdraw as a candidate for president on the Social Democratic ticket in favor of Bryan or any one else. He favor of Bryan, or Bryan retire in favor of McKinley, than I will retire in favor of either. I am in this fight until the end of my life."

M'KINLEY OR BRYAN?

Both Sides Express Confidence In Their Triumph at the Polls.

Contest Appears to Be Very Close In Some States.

In Many Others, However, the Result Is a Foregone Conclusion.

Chicago, Nov. 6.-Chairman Jones of night said:

"I have no doubt that the result of the ballot tomorrow will be the triumphant election of Bryan and Stevenson The Democratic party has appealed in this campaign to the reason and conscience of the people, while the Republicans have appealed to passion and prejudice. In the great forum of public opinion I have no doubt the Democratic party has won in this, the greatest of its national political struggles. Four years ago the Democratic party was deficient in organization, whereas, now i is more perfectly organized and more efficient than it has been in any campaign. The national committee has been in touch with every part of the country, and familiar with all the details of work. While the campaign fund has not been enriched by the contributions of great trusts, it has received the patriotic mites of the great working classes in sufficient quantity to defray the expenses of the campaign, which was even more satisfactory than the triumphant election of the national Democratic ticket."

The following statement was given out at the headquarters of the Republican national committee: There are few surface indications at this time dissimilar to those of four years ago, when McKinley swept the country by the greatest majority probably ever given to a presidential candidate. The work of the Republicans during the past four weeks has been marvelously effective. It has become marked everywhere by completeness in detail of machinery, harmonious action and desired results. In the history of the party of better organization has ever existed. McKinley and Roosevelt will carry every state which voted for McKinley and Hobart four years ago, and certainly seven or eight others that voted for Bryan in 1896. The alleged hopes of Croker and Bryan as to carrying Indiana and New York are simply following out the program of claiming everything in sight, for the purpose of encouraging their folowers in close states to make the most desperate efforts for success. The claims of the Republicans are based upon the result of actual work reported by men in the field, brought up through precinct ward, township, city, county and state organizations and upon actual facts as instructions of the court, there will be of the legislature." no doubt as to the verdict. I hope that the people will vote early and then see that the vote is counted as cast. I have been informed that there is a plan to buy any purchasable voters with a sum contingent upon gains in the precinct but I do not believe that the plan will work, because a Democrat who would become a Republican worker at the last moment would be suspected by his neighbors, and I believe that the people are so much in earnest that bribery upon any extended scale will be impossible."

Greater New York a Factor. New York, Nov. 6 .- Both Republicans and Democrats agree that more than 600,000 citizens in Greater New York will vote today. Generally speaking, Republicans concede that Bryan will carry Greater New York. On the other hand, Democrats admit that McKinley will carry the rest of the state. The question hinges on the plurality that the Democrats are conceded in the metropolis and the Republicans are conceded up state. At Republican national headquarters Joseph H. Manley gave out the following statement: "I do not share with some the opinion that Indiana is entirely safe for us. We have no doubt of Illinois. We shall certainly carry New York state by not less than 75,000 majority, and l look for something over 100,000 majority.' Richard Croker claims that Bryan will carry Greater New York by between 80,-000 and 90,000. Democrats are inclined to concede the state outside of Greater New York to McKinley by 50,000. This is 100,000 less than the Republicans allow McKinley in the same territory. The close of the campaign finds the betting that has obtained during the last fortnight practically unchanged. Only comparatively small bats are being made, the ruling odds ranging anywhere from 4 to 1 to,5 to 1, in favor of McKinley and against Bryan.

The Vote of the Bay State. Boston, Nov. 6 .- The Republicans are confident that President McKinley will have at least 100,000 votes more than cut a wide swath in the ordinary party practically the full party strength. It is believed that Governor Crane will run somewhat ahead of the national ticket. The Republican state candidates will be elected, with the exception, perhaps, of use of pencils and all sorts of frauds. auditor. It will not be surprising if William D. Merrill, the Prohipitionist candidate for the office, is elected. As for the congressmen, nine Republicans and one Democrat are practically sure ware for McKinley and the state Re of election, while in the other districts publican ticket. The legislature, which indications also favor the Republicans. In the Tenth a spirited contest has been going on, as the district has always been a close one. The present representative bury claims that the state will give is a Democrat, but four years ago a Re- Bryan the electoral vote, and that the publican was elected. Claims Without Figures.

New Haven, Nov. 6 .- Observers who are not intensely partisan predict a safe of success, but the Democrats claim that McKinley margin, and a probable Republican victory on the state ticket. On the latter point, however, they do not the Democratic national committee last express in figures their opinions. The two state committees have issued new statements, each chock full of confiednt

What Vermonters Expect.

Montpeller, Vt. Nov. 6-The Republicans are sure of carrying the state, and the Democrats are hopeful of cutting down McKinley's 38,426 plurality of four years ago. The Republican party managers are predicting at least 27,000 majority for the national candidates.

E finates F on N. w Hampshire.

Concord, N. H., Nov. 6 .- The Demoratic managers concede about what the Republican leaders claim, and no one will deny President McKinley a 20,000 plurality, and Jordan, the Republican candidate for governor, 15,000.

No Change Expected In Maine. Portland, Me., Nov. 6.- The indications are that about the usual presidential year vote will be thrown, with a probable Republican majority of 28,000 in the state.

Maryland Possibilities.

Baltimore, Nov. 6 .- Both sides are claiming the state by pronounced maorities. Chairman Van Diver of the Democratic state central committee said: 'I have no hesitancy in claiming that we will carry the state by from 5000 to 10,000 majority, and that both city and counties will contribute to that end." Chairman Goldsborough of the Republican state committee said that he looks for even a larger majority than the 11,000 which he previously mentioned.

Big Vote Will Be Folled. Chicago, Nov. 5 .- Neve Wave the plans more comprehensive or laid with greater care, and no presidential campaign since that of Blaine and Cleveland, in 1884, has teen fought out with greater energy in this state than the one which has just closed. A very full vote will be polled in the state at large. The Republicans are elated at the prospect of success. The Democratic managers declare that the election is certain to resuit in a sweeping Democratic triumph.

Hoosier State Predictions.

Indianapolis, Nov. 6.-Indications point to a full vote being polled. Chairman Martin of the Democratic state committee made the following statement: "I see no reason for changing my predictions as heretofore made. I believe Indiana will go Democratic by a Omaha, Nov. 6 .- Mr. Bryan last night safe margin." Chairman Hernly of the gave out the following statement: "The Republican state committee gave his evidence is in, the arguments have been final estimate of the probable result: made and the case is now submitted to "It's a landslide. If you are sitting in a restaurant where waitresses are in attendance, you will note now and again some young woman put her hand to her back, and straighten herself up, while her lips are tightened as if by pain. It's backache. Yet all day long she must

Omaha, Nov. 6 .- The Republican state ommittee is still claiming the state by 5000 plurality for McKinley, but this is placed against the positive assertion by Chairman Hall of the Democratic con mittee that Mr. Bryan will receive a plu rality of at least 12,000. In the congres sional districts the honors will probabl

San Francisco, Nov. 6 .- The chairma of the Republican and Democratic state committees still insist that their respectively tive parties will carry the state by from 12,000 to 15,000. The result in California will probably not be known until Wednesday night, but sufficient returns will Surprising Results Expected.

St. Louis, Nov. 6 .- After one of the most animated nights known in the history of Missouri politie, the Democrats express the utmost confidence of giving the national ticket a majority of from 40,000 to 45,000. The Republicans are equally boastful. Many are of the opin ion that McKinley will have a sligh majority over Bryan and Stevenson. 1 is conceded by members of both partie that the vote will show surprising results

A Combination In Kentucky.

Louisville, Nov. 6 .- Both sides claim the state by 20,000, though disinterested estimates do not put the majority eithe way above 6000 or 8000. The state central committee of the independent Demo crats, who, in the last election, cast 12, 140 votes for John Y. Brown for governor of campaign managers in this state been has endorsed Yerkes, (Rep.) for governor, and Bryan. It is generally believed that Bryan will run ahead of Beckham, Democratic candidate for governor, and that Yerkes will run ahead of McKinley, whether Democrats or Republicans carry the state. The Republicans hope by fusion with Brown Democrats t carry several congressional districts now represented by Democrats.

> Minnesota Republicans Confident. St. Paul, Nov. 6 .- The election of Minnesota McKinley electors seems assured, the Democratic committee only expressing a belief in the possibility of Bryan carrying the state without actually claiming it. The Republicans place the McKinley plurality at from 50,000 to 75, Republicans Safe In Wisconsin. Milwaukee, Nov. 6 .- The indications point to Republican success. Even the Democratic press concedes the state to congressmen, nine are practically con ceded to the Republicans.

Claimed by Both Sides.

Topeka, Kan., Nov. 6 .- The Republi cans claim 25,000 plurality for McKinley the state ticket by a plurality somewhat less, and the election of eight congressmen. The fusionists concede one con gressman to the Republicans, but claim everything else, placing Bryan's plurality at 16,000.

The Result Uncertain. Reno, Nev., Nov. 6 .- On the surface, the ndications are the the result will be very close. The chairman of the Republican state central committee claims 500 majority. The Democrats, on the other hand, feel confident that they will carry the state as in 1896 for Bryan.

Both Candidates Sure of Winning. Detroit, Nov. 6 .- Both parties in Michigan are confident of success. Both William C. Maybury, the Democratic candidate for governor, and Aaron T Bliss, his Republican opponent, issued a signed statement in which each confidently asserts he will be elected. Sena tor McMillan predicts a Republican majority of between 70,000 and 75,000.

Republican and Fusion Claims. Sioux Falls, S. D., Nov. 6.-Both parties are still stoutly claiming that they wil carry the state. Conservative Republi cans estimate the majority for thei ticket in the state at between 5000 and Fusionists say Bryan will carry the state by at least 2000.

McKinley's Plurality Will Be Reduced. Philadelphia, Nov. 6 .- Very little in terest is manifested relative to the vote of the state in the presidential contest as a big Republican majority is conceded even by the Democratic leaders. Mc-Kinley's plurality of 295,072 of four years ago will no doubt be considerably re-

For many a year he grubbed among The stalls where antique tomes lie piled,
And then alone when, for a song,
He bought some prize, he ever smiled.
Staring at titles, oft his eyes
Slanted aloft with eager looks,
As if he stood in paradica.

As if he stood in paradise Neath trees of knowledge hung with books

So long the reflex dull of calf,

Morocco, vellum, lit his face;
That it is leathern now by half,
And Time's deep tooling we can trace.
Volumes grew human in his care,
While he their form and semblance took,
Till men stood on the shelving there
And in the armchair lolled a book.

But books and men will fray and fade As Care's rude finger turns the page,

They warp and mildew into age.

Drift of Opinion.

The secret of the objection to a pure beer law must be found in the great profits derived from the sale of adulterated beer. A state pure beer law would of course compel the reputable brewers to discard such cheap and are of course dearer than the cheap total being 6,642 to 3,738 for E. J. substitues now used.—Wine and Spirit Jenney, a plurality of 2,904.

Youth is so long, we say; but it is so short in passing. Its gold can be squandered in a year. All its dreams can be flattened into ennui and commonplace in so short a time that it seems only a little mad play of one mad night. A little sloth, a little stupid sleep, a period of squandering and waste, and low thoughts, aims and Randolph, animal indulgence, and to our astonish- Weymouth, ment we awake middle-aged, gray in heart and hope, bereft of aspiration and purpose and faith, our enthusiasms dead within us, -a settled, stolid being, a creature of whim, caprice, and habit, halt and lame perhaps in mind and body; no young vigor or purpose left, only the memory of something that once roused, and fired and animated our being,-Christain Register.

Every American schoolboys knows," says an exchange,-but we need not go into a description of what the school boy knows in this instance. It is something about the natives of the Phillippine islands. The phrase has the sanctity of years, but in this instance its use calls attention to the fact that after all, neither the Ameriof men who have passed judgment on all phases of the matter after two days stay in Manilla to those who have spent months in tramping about the islands. The chief characteristic of their reports is their disagreement in almost every particular. What every 'schoolboy knows,'' if he stops to consider is that he knows precious little about it .- New Bedford Standard.

In the present inchoate state of opinion on the subject it is neither expedient nor wise for the clergy to champion any particular theory of sociology involving, as all such theories do, the very character and existence of our present social and political systems. Made to order, as most of them are, to reform some special abuse, they are full of crudities and contradictions; and, what is worst of all, nearly every one of them ignores the one thought that ought to be first of all considered, namely, human nature. In theory they can all be made to work perfectly, but when taken into the real world of average men with very mixed motives, and largely dominated by selfish considerations, they break down and give the cynics a chance to dismiss the whole subject as a dream of visionaries. The thing to hope for, and indeed expect, is an almost imperceptible improvement of the present social system. And in contributing to that improvement the clergy may do much by teaching the primary duties of obligation, right, justice and righteousness. poised on the principle of universal brotherhood. An evolution of the present system is what should be striven for, and not revolution on the lines of some crude, half baked doctrinaire scheme of sociology which has never been tested by experience and runs counter to the facts of human nature .- New York Tribune.

The town council of Thornton Ind. has adopted an ordinance forbidding persons from "lining up" at the close of church services as if in review.

Foot Ball.

Several hundred football enthusiasts went to Merrymount Park Tuesday, expecting to see a lively game between Quincy High and Dedham High. For some reason the visiting team failed to put in an appearance. A scrub team composed of Thayer and High school boys played Q. H. S. a short half, winning 6-0 on a fumble. Q. H. S. lacked aggressiveness. They must get together and work together, if they hope to accomplish anything during the remainder of the season.

Los Angeles. With all the drawbacks which have beset San Francisco the growth of that city is something of a surprise. Within a year or two there has been an immense development of business across the Pacific, and of this San Francisco is getting a fair share. A new life has been breathed into the city. It must be said, too, that the census returns, which show a population of 342,782, are scarcely fair to San Francisco. With all of the people counted that are justly hers the city would pass Cleveland, Buffalo and others that have nominally outgrown her, and she would register a population of about 450,000. Within 20 to 50 minutes' ride of the city, and peopled by men and women who draw their living from it, are eight cities and towns, ranging in population from 1,000 to 66,000. ### The Caucuses Tomorrow Night Will Decide.

Again at the Republican Municipal convention, the total number of delegates will be 38, and 20 will be necessary for a choice. They are apportioned as follows:

Ward One. Ward Two, Ward Three, Ward Four. Ward Five. Ward Six.

It seems probable that Wards Five and Six will be for Mayor Hall, which will give him 12 votes. If Wards Two. Three and Four continue "anti," as at the State caucuses, they are liable to elect delegates favorable to Councilmen Elisha Packard, which would give him a total of 18 votes.

Neither would have a majority without votes from Ward One, and Mayor Hall must secure the solid delegation to make up his 20, while Mr. Packard would need only a couple to give him a majority. If Ward One is close as it promises to be, the delegation is keeper-Lawrence Whittemore. It was the Councilmen from Ward Five who complained because citizens must come to City Hall to be registered and it was through their efforts that the ordinance was changed so that sessions of the Registrars should be held in the different wards. The Registrars met in Ward Five Wednesday night and were ready to register citizen but none came. They waited until 9 o'clock and then went home, not one person having appeared. They will meet in Ward Three tonight.

COMPLAINT OF BRYAN,

"Purchase of Votes" and "Colonization" Caused Republican Success.

Prosperity Argument Was the Most Potent One.

Declares That Contest Between Plutocracy and Democracy is Not Yet Ended.

Lincoln, Neb., Nov. 9 .- Mr. Bryan forvarded the following telegram at noon esterday to President McKinley:

"Hon. William McKinley, President of ther presidential campaign, it is my lot congratulate you upon a second vic-W. J. Bryan." Mr. Bryan last night gave out the fol-

"The Republicans were able to secure

tickets or passes for all their voters who vere away from home, and this gave them considerable advantage. We have no way of knowing at this time how nuch money was spent in the purchase of votes and in colonization. But while these would account for some of the Republican gains, they could not account for the widespread increases in the Republican vote. The prosperity argu ment was probably the most potent one used by the Republicans. They compared present conditions with the panic times of '93 to '96, and this argument had weight with those who did not stop o consider the reasons for the change. of influence among those who did not realize that a war against a doctrine of Dangerous fallacies had been laid at relf-government in the Philippines must rest by the en charge vote of the people, react upon us in this country. "We are defeated, but not discouraged. The fight must go on. I am sure that can leaders will urge Senator Fairbanks by the people when the tendency of these policies are fully understood. The contest between plutocracy and democracy annot end until one or the other is ompletely triumphant."

Concerning himself, Mr. Bryan said: "I have come out of the campaign with erfect health and a clear conscience. did my best to bring success to the principles for which I stood. Mr. Stevenson did all that he could; Senator Jones and the members of the Demo-Anti-Imperialist committees did all they could. Mr. Hearst and his associates in the club organization put forth their best efforts. Our newspapers, our campaign speeches and our local organizations all did their part. I have no fault to find, and no reproaches. I shall continue to take an active interest in politics as long as I live. I believe it to be the duty of citizens to do so, and, in addition to my interests as a citizen, I feel that it will require a life-time of work to repay the political friends who have done so much for me. I shall not be a senatorial candidate before the legislature which has been elected. Senator Allen deserves the senatorship, which goes to Populists. Mr. Hitchcock and Mr. W. H. Thompson are avowed candidates for the senatorship. They both deserve well of the party, and I am too grateful to them for past support to stand in their way, even if I desired a seat in the sen-

Mr. Bryan said he has no other plans at present than to remain at home until he had recovered from the fatigue of campaigning. He denied that he would remove from Nebraska and make Texas

A VIGOROUS CAMPAIGN.

Washington, Nov. 9 .- The population

Reorganization Problem.

Opinion That the Total Strength Will Be Placed at About 75,000 Men.

Washington, Nov. 9 .- Although no one ling to discuss the subject, it is perfeetly well known that orders have been sent to General MacArthur to start a vigorous campaign at once in the Phil ippines, pressing the remnants of the Filipino army to the last extremity, folowing even small bands when necessary A message from one of the members o paign were sent with a view to taking advantage of their demoralization. MacArthur's renewal of activity, taken in connection with the break up of the Filipino junta at Hong Kong, which it is hoped will result from an appeal to Great Britain, is expected to wind up hostilities in the archipelago before the end of the year.

Members of both houses of congress are drifting into the city and discussing matters cannot be left long as they are ow, and yet the senate passed a bill at the last session which is still hung up in the house committee wich probably rep esents all that the senate would be will-ng to do on its own initiative. The report that the regular army wil be increased to 100,000 men lacks corroboration from the congressmen best informed; their opinion is that the increase will not exceed 10,000, raising the total to 75,000 men. The senate army bill nouse, but it is likely to be met in the house by a substitute framed on the general lines of the Hull bill of the Fiftyfifth congress. This substitute may be tacked to the enacting clause of the senate bill, so as to give it the prestige of a bill which has adready gone through one chamber, or the house leaders may prefer to give their chamber the credit of the new legislation by bringing it in as an independent measure. The artiflery changes proposed by the senate bill—the substitution of the battery or company unit for the regimental organizationbids fair to be preserved, no matter what other points are dropped. No opinion can be got that is worth anything on the question of retaining the veterinary feature of the senate bill, but the indications are that it will be omitted. On all sides the opinion prevails that whatever is done will have to be done Suppose a plant seems to "stand still" to serve there. The house will undoubtfor immediate consideration and a time limit on debate, and the other Republican members on the committee on rules are of one mind on this program. In response to questions as to the course of the Democrats, the opinion is generally expressed that they will not fireman, spent 27 hours on the keel of the attempt anything more than a mere forcapsized vessel. It was now eight days since the boy was taken, and as no trace could be had of him it was believed that he had been killed or taken out of the country. The papers gave pay almost any sum to have his child restored.

It had come to be understood in our corridor that we had some scheme, but we refused to answer any questions. The soldier started off one morning, and before noon he was holding an interview with the father of the abducted boy. In a small African village, some years ago, there was a scare about some leopards which were said to have killed a number of goats. Accordingly two white men, accompanied by seeral patives, set off to hunt them. Presently they found a place in the long grass where it was evident that one of the brutes had recently lair, for the ground was still warm.

The natives formed a ring round it, and the hunters got their guns ready. After a little while the leopard emerged from the long grass and was fired at and wounded, but not fatally. With a great bound he sprang on one of the white men and brought him to the ground. Holding his victim, he turned and growled savagely at the others.

The natives gave a wild yell of fear, and then like a shot the loopard sprang away. He had not been frightened by the guns, but the yell terrified him .-Youth's Companion.

A TALK WITH HANNA.

Republicans Did Not Count on Nebraska and Will Fight For Kentucky.

Does Not Think Bryan Will Again Be a Candidate.

Says That Talk of His Own Candidacy For the Presidency is Absurd.

New York, Nov. 10.-"Well boys," said Senator Hanna yesterday afternoon, to g crowd of reporters, "I suppose you Want to know all about it." "Yes, how did it happen?" was the re-

"That's easy," returned the senator

Then, after a pause, he continued: "The people of this country were over whelmingly in favor of sound money, law and order, and a continuanation of that policy which stands for prosperity. Patriotism and loyalty to the flag were strong factors in this campaign, and that, together with the aid of those who are generally termed sound money Democrats, or Gold Democrats, but whom I call American citizens, all combined to bring about this result.

"Nebraska was the greatest victory of We made a hard fight in that state; we went for it for all we were worth, and while we did our utmost and hoped for the best, we did not expect to carry it. "We gave the campaign west of the Mississippi river our special attention and found the response to our efforts so ncouraging that we were encouraged redouble our efforts in that section, even in Nebraska, and then we began to entertain seriously-perhaps I should say cheerfully-hopes of carrying Bryan's own state.

"We have carried Kentucky, and we have not yet given up hope of receiving her electoral vote, and we do not propose to give up. We have carried the state, and we propose to fight for it."

How about changes in the cabinet, senator?" Mr. Hanna was asked.

"You won't get a word out of me about cabinet positions. I have nothing to say about that. It is none of my af-"What do you think of Roosevelt's dion."

"Do you think Bryan will be the Demoeratic candidate in 1904?"

'There is nothing that can make Mr. Bryan the logical candidate of the Democratic party again. By 1904 Democracy will have to secure a divorce from Bryanism, and no one will be more happy to see it than myself. I would rather have the Democratic party opposed to us than Bryan. Though they would be more formidable, I would prefer to see the party reorganized along its old lines." Mr. Hanna's attention was called to the fact that Senator Depew had said the insurrection should be put down in the Philippines at once, no matter how much money and how many men it would requie to accomplish this end, and was

"It has been announced that you are a candidate for the presidency in 1904." "If I find the man who started that report I will kill him. I won't talk about that or allow anyone else to do it. It is too absurd."

"Do you mean to say you would decline the nomination if it were tendered you?" "Well, something very like it. But I don't wish to discuss that at all. It is too foolish.'

As Successor to Root.

Indianapolis, Nov. 10.-Leading Republicans met yesterday to induce, if possible, Harry S. New, national committeeman, to allow the use of his name for secretary of war. Mr. New has declined office so far, and an effort will be made to get him to accept the cabinet appointnent, to which, it is felt here, Indiana is entitled.

Denial From Dickinson.

Detroit, Nov. 10 .- Don M. Dickinson, postmaster general under President Cleveland, denies an alleged interview with him that appeared in a New York paper, in which he was made to say that plans had been decided upon at a meeting in New York for the reorganization of the Democratic party.

Now they will have no fear about actively exerting their influence in our behalf, and they will do it. They and all the petter class of people are tired of war and the generally disturbed conditions.

Necessary to Complete Sovereignty. Washington, Nov. 10.—Because the cesion of the islands of Cibitu and Cagayen of the Philippine archipelago must be ratified by the senate of the United States, the officials of the state department positively decline to discuss the transfer referred to by the Spanish prenier. The state department officials regard the islands as absolutely necessary to complete American sovereignty in the Philippines. Lying to the southwest of the main group of islands, and in one of the most important channels of communication, it would be, in the eye of the department, a most dangerous course to allow them to fall into the hands of another power, and thus constitute a permanent menace to American sovereignty in the Philippines.

The other day the first exhibition of hairdressing by the Amalgamated Hairdressers' Schools of London took place in the St. James hall, the most prominent and interesting feature of which was without doubt the fashio scheme. In this section 30 experts It having been decided that the pom padour or, more strictly speaking, the semipompadour style should reign supreme as the most correct fashion for 1901, the proceedings were confined to the illustration of the several conceptions of this particular idea.

The abolition of the high and generally becoming method of dressing will be deplored by many, but it must be acknowledged that the pompadour is eminently more suited to the average English face. To attain this effect the hair is softly waved from the forehead, with just a suspicion of a parting. One or two tiny curls rest on the face, and the hair is gathered into coils or curls at the nape of the neck, leaving it full at the sides, where it is kept in place with combs. This fashion will abolish the enormously high headdress favored of late and introduce once more the pretty jeweled combs once so popular, but for its proper execution the dresser demands hair 28 inches long-an almost prohibitive clause for many unless artificial means are employed.

A New American Beauty Rose. There is a new American Beauty. The other day a bouquet of the new roses was exhbiited at the flower show in the Auditorium at Chicago. The new flower is a pink, lighter than the most delicate of what is known as the American Beauty shades, but still deeper than the pink of the ordinary rose, says the New York Times. In fact, it has more of the hardy coloring of the pink peony and is regarded as the triumph of the nurseries of the Floral Exchange, an incorporated company of Philadelphia. It is called the Queen of

Where the Shoe Pinches. Lord Durham's declaration that Americans are ruining the British turf is apparently based on the belief that the ruin began when the American horses and jockeys commenced to win races. Nothing was heard of the American ruin so long as the Yankee competitors came home in the ruck of the procession, but as the complaint is vocal when the Americans win, the indication is that the ruin that troubles the Briton most is that which falls on the backers of British horses.-Pittsburg Dispatch.

A New Football Record. The football record of 104 points was broken on Hobart field the other afternoon when the Geneva (N. Y.) High school by a score of 109 to 0.

Most Americans know that there is some dispute about the Spanish throne, but few can give its grounds. The main cause of the trouble is the Salic law, which is very ancient and which declares that the throne may not descend to or through a woman. This law was established in Spain by Philip V, who died in 1746. He declared that no woman could reign in Spain while there lived a male descendant of Philip IV. This law worked fairly well without any serious dispute as to its authority for about a century. Ferdinand VII held the throne of Spain under Napoleon from 1813 until 1815, and then in his own right. Like most Spanish monarchs he was a weakling and was completely under the domination of his energetic fourth wife, Queen Maria Christina, daughter of Francis, king of the two Sicilies. This queen was a handsome, energetic, ambitious, unprincipled woman. Ferdinand VII and Maria Christina had two daughters, who by the Salic law were barred from the throne. Had the royal pair possessed a son much misery and bloodshed would have been spared to their unhappy kingdom. Queen Maria was not satisfied, there-After juggling with the law for some in Spain.

The dispute culminated in a civil war, which was settled for a time by the defeat of the Carlists in 1840. Queen Isabella's reign was disturbed by many revolutions, coups d'etat and changes of constitution, and in 1868 her outraged subjects, alienated by the flagrancy of her private life, deposed her. Many regard these with indifference or contempt they are either thrown over on other shoulders already overburdend or neglected altogether.-Lutheran.

The People's Inheritance. When Christ was dying on the cross, he made a will. Perhaps you have thought that no one ever remembered you in a will. If you are in the kingdom, Christ did, for it was to His disciples He said, "Peace I leave with you; My peace I give unto you." They say a man can't make a will now that lawyers can't break and drive a fourin-hand straight through. I challenge them to break this one. Let them try it. No judge or jury can set Christ's will aside, for He rose to execute it Himself. If He had left us a lot of gold, we should never have got it, for thieves would have stolen it in the first century. But He left His peace and His joy for every true believer. - D. L. Moody.

To do what we ought is an altogether tire he had long wished for. higher, diviner, more potent, more creative thing than to write the grandest peem, paint the most beautiful picture, carve the mightlest statue or dream out the most enchanting commetion of melody and harmony. If you have ever seen the Lord, if only from afar; if you have any vaguest suspicion that Jesus was a better man than other men, one of your first duties must be to open your ears to His words and see whether they command themselves to you as true; then, if they do, to obey them with your whole strength and might. - George MacDonald.

The old proverb; "To be at peace prepare for war," is the secret of the larger part of life's successes, whether of nations or individuals.

The difference between the healthy, happy mother who has healthy children to nurse and nourish, and the weak, nervous mother, with a weakling child, is mostly a difference of preparation.

The great preparative for motherhood is Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It tranquilizes the nerves, encourages the appetite and induces refreshing sleep. It gives the mother strength to give her child. It imparts elasticity and strength to the organs of maternity so that the baby's advent is practically painless.

baby's advent is practically painless.

"I take pleasure in writing you to let you know about your 'Favorite Prescription,' "says Mr. E. E. Fricke, of Petersburg, Menard Co., Ill., Box 367. "My wife had been sick nearly all her life, and after trying everything I could think of I made up my mind to try 'Favorite Prescription.' I sent to Chicago and got six bottles, which my wife took, a tablespoonful three times a day, until the baby came. She felt better after taking the first bottle, and when baby was born he weighed nine and a half pounds. To-day he is six months old and weighs twenty-two pounds. He is as good a child as any one could wish. The doctor says he is as healthy as any baby could be, and also the doctor says your 'Favorite Prescription' was the cause of such a healthy baby. I felt I owed you this much for the good you did my wife and myself. I hope you will mention this to others who may be in need of such help, and you may refer them to me, as I would be glad to tell of the good of such a valuable medicine."

TRAINS OF NEW BOATS FOR THE MIS SISSIPPI RIVER.

at the rate of ten miles an hour is the novel sight which will be presented to the admiring gaze of the dwellers along the banks. If the Indians could have seen this strange craft, they would have thought the spirit of evil himself was on board, but we of the nineteenth century are becoming used to such wonders. When Alexander McDougall announced that he would run a river took a record of 2:241/4. train on the Mississippi 730 feet long, with a powerful engine in front and two great cars behind, people were astonished, but they did not doubt for an instant his ability to do as he said. McDougall is the man who gave the whaleback to the great lakes and revolutionized the traffic in that part of the country. He has therefore all the experience necessary to carry out his latest plan.

Though it looks so much like a railroad train, this wonder of the great river is a fleet of boats. It is indestructible. It cannot strike a rock and sink. It can carry 7,000 tons of freight. and when loaded to the fullness of its capacity it will draw but 26 inches of water, less than the draft of a steamboat flying light.

This new invention is expected to make St. Louis one of the greatest grain ports in the world. It will increase the growth of the cities along the banks of the river, and its effects will be widespread as far as the development of the country is concerned.

The new whalebacks of the river are great steel hulls. Their length is 265 feet, their beam 40 feet, and their hulls are 14 feet deep. Flying light they draw 16 inches of water, and with every 300 tons added to their cargo they displace an additional inch, making the draft 26 inches when the barge is carrying 3,000 tons of grain. A small fleet of steamboats could not carry so much in the same time.

Their distinctive feature is their excessive flatness. They are, in fact, toboggans which run on the surface of the water. The great area of the hulls, 10,600 square feet each, gives the barges buoyancy. The top of the boats is also perfectly flat, the only break in the monotony being the six hatches and the little frame houses at the bow and at the stern, the forward containing the steam steering apparatus and the other the quarters for the crew.

The boat which will be the engine of this river train has been built at Carondelet. There is not another such boat on any river. It is a whaleback just like the barges save that it is equipped with powerful propelling machinery and a pair of twin screws each eight feet in diameter. The engines are of 1,200 horsepower, and running alone the boat is the speediest craft on the There are two ways of securing Mississippi, being capable of going down stream at the rate of 20 miles an hour. The pilot of the engine will The easy and cheap way is to go steer his own boat only. At the stern to the market and make your of the first barge behind there is anselection. Said to Have Been Omitted In Understanding Reached by Envoys.

Board of Foreign Affairs Is Objectionable to America.

Text of Ger was Statement as to Understanding Said to Have Been Reached.

Washington, Nov. 12 .- If, as reported In the Cologne Gazette, the powers have reached a definite understanding in regard to China, its terms as stated by that newspaper omit several features which have been a source of discussion Probably the most important of these is the proposition to abolish the cumbersome office of the tsung li yamen, or board of foreign affairs, and place the duties of that body under the supervision of one person, who shall be directly responsible for the management of its affairs. This change has been urgently desired by our government, and among all the powers. Officials profess tail the existing state of the negotiations now in progress, and the impression prevails that if an agreement has been reached it is incomplete, only partial.

Nothing came from Minister Conger yesterday. Minister Wu said last night that he had no information bearing on the movements of the imperial family. STABBED WHICE IN BED. Peculiar Murder For Which Oscar Johnson Is Arrested on Suspicion.

Worcester, Mass., Nov. 12.-The police last night arrested at Clinton William Erickson, who is supposed to be Oscar Johnson, the man wanted for the murder of Gustaf Erickson, who was stabbed to death at his home on Katherine street on Saturday. After the arrest, Chief Stone of the Worcester department went to Clinton, and was so certain that the prisoner was Oscar Johnson, that he brought him back to this city.

Erickson and his wife lived on the top floor of a 21/2-story tenement house. About 2 o'clock Saturday morning, a family on the ground floor was aroused by cries coming from the Erickson tenement, and rushed up to find Mrs. Erick son in her night dress, leaning over the prostrate form of her husband, in the kitchen of their bome. Her nightgown and hands were smeared with blood, and the men was bathed in it. A red stream flowed from a wound in his breast, while blood stains were on the floor, and made a red path to the bathroom, off the kitchen.

According to the story told by Mrs. Erickson a man leaned over her as she lay asleep on the outside of their bed, and and no longer can be considered, the replunged a knife into her husband's heart. ### NAVY IS HANDICAPPED the Vessels Already Constructed.

Employment of Retired Officers Severely Criticized.

Present Navy Far Too Weak to Fight a First Class European Power.

Washington, Nov. 11 .- The present personnel of the navy would form barely one-fourth of the total establishmen necessary to fight a first-class European power, is the startling statement made in the report of Admiral Crowninshield chief of the navigation bureau. It barely sufficed for the Spanish-American war port says, as an efficient necleus about which a large establishment could be

The admiral regards this need of the navy for officers and men as most urgent. He says that the bureau can point to many cases where the service is being academy is suffering for want of instructors, and the present high standard of training cannot be maintained Every bureau in the department is short of officers, and the service, the report predicts, soon will fall behind in the struggle, first for leadership and then for equality, with the other services The disability of the sea-going corps officers has greatly increased since the Spanish war, and many of the best offi ers are being lost as a result of breaking dewn from overwork.

The admiral severely criticizes the in effective effort of congress at the last session to meet immediate needs for officers, by authorizing the employment of etired officers, and he demands the imediate repeal of that act. He claims that the retired list, intended as a reward for faithfu! service, otherwise becomes a hardship and a punishment. The personnel act thus far has resulted in affordling less officers than were on the active list before its passage, as while authorizing an increase, it failed to provide the means therefor, so there are now 131 vacancies in the list of naval officers, when vacancies can be least afforded. Therefore it is recommended that for the next 10 years appointments to the naval academy be doubled. It is declared that it is now impossible to man the vessels of our navy already onstructed with the present force, not o mention those building or authorized. Congress is urged to make any increase in personnel immediately available. The training system now practiced in the navy is commended, and it is declared that by no other means could the navy secure the sailors necessary to man the fleet. Since the close of the Spanish war the department has found that the furnish seamen for the navy are no longer adequate. Only 237 seamen hav enlisted for the first enlistment in the past year, so the department has been

There were 2452 desertions from the navy and 86 deaths during the past fiscal year. The enlistments number 8123 from a total number of applicants of 40,854. Over 68 percent of the men in the navy are native born, 19 percent are natural-Dicello received two of the four shots ized and 9 percent have declared intentions. Ninety-two percent of the landsmen now under training are native born.

Touching the naval academy, it is earnestly urged that no physical dishereafter, as there has been a marked cadets, owing to their abandonment of the vigorous "weeding out" process, which has now fallen into disuse

Two additional training ships for apprentices at Newport are said to be urgently needed. The report urges continued training of the men in marks-The admiral makes a strong point in his report of the necessity of naval barracks, to take the place of the present receiving ships, which, he says, are nothing more nor less than poorly constructed, ill-ventilated, badly lighted. unsanitary old-fashioned floating houses. A mild reproof upon congress is concained in the closing paragraph of the report, which calls attention to the discouraging condition in which distinguished officers of the navy have been left by not receiving any formal recogni tion for their heroic services during the war with Spain. The report says that the navy had no part in the unfortunate public controversy which followed upon the president's recommendation that certain officers should be promoted, and adds that thus far there has been no recognition by congress, except of those who shared in the victory at Manila and three who served elsewhere in the war.

The second parlor entertainment in a series of four, given by the Wollaston boys for the benefit of the Y. M.C. A., was held at the home of Mrs. J. B. Cornish, Grand View avenue. Mr. C. F. Whitney of Salem spoke very entertainingly on "Picture Study," illustrating his remarks by clever chalk drawings of nature scenes. He told ow to judge a picture from the point of view of unity, balance and art values. Himself an artist and a teacher of art. Mr. Whitney was perfectly natural and simple in his talk, which was highly enjoyed by those who were fortfnate to be present. Mr. Follett sang Cowan's "Border Ballade" and Walter Damrosh's adaptation of Kipling's poem "Danny Deever," also Neven's "Hark, hark, my soul" as a duet with Mrs. Follett.

One little automobile at the motor vehicle show held in Madison Square dinary attention, says the New York Tribune. All of the mechanism is confined in a rather small space directly under the body of the runabout. This leaves the usual space vacant in the pounds and carries 10 electric cells total weight of the machine about 720 pounds. The vehicle is capable of mak ing from 20 to 30 miles an hour over ordinary city and country roads. The attachment might be made to any ve

The Winton machine, which is said to have made the trip from Cleveland to New York, 580 miles, in less than 37 hours, was placed on exhibition and attracted much attention. It is said that the only real damage from the trip was to the rims to which the tires are attached.

A man from the west showed for the first time in this district his idea of what the tricycle, bicycle and automobile tire should be. He seems sure that the days of the pneumatic tire have passed. He contends for his tire that there is "no vibration, no oscilla tion, no resistance in climbing hills and no lack of resiliency." It is a cushion tire and, of course, puncture proof There are two extra rims inside th one to which the tire is attached. The spokes go through the inner rim and attach to the second, but do not reach the outer rim. The center, or middle rim is fastened to the one which holds the rubber tire.

Another booth holder showed a cov ering for an automobile tire that he says will prevent the tires from slipping on wet asphalt and skidding in making sharp turns and that when so protected the tire is practically punc ture proof. It is simply a cover composed of rubber and fabric studded with rivets. The heads of the rivets

The demand for a vehicle of greater mileage capacity and a higher rate of speed than normal has been met by one company with a special design. The vehicle carries 64 cells instead of 44. A new machine was shown on the track for the first time the other day It is heavier than most of the ordinar kind and is intended for war purposes It is propelled by steam and has seats for four persons, two in front and two in the rear. The men who manned the machine were dressed in full marching order. It looked real enough until some of the experts discovered that the were not real soldlers and that Eddi-McDuffie, the ex-champion at middle distance cycle racing, was working the

According to the manufacturer the machine made a record trip recently from Kingsland Point to New York city, making the distance, 32 miles, in 65 minutes. The vehicle is equipped with room for 1,000 rounds of ammuni tion, four military rifles, four pairs of blankets, four soldier kits, cooking utensils, two intrenching shovels and enough condensed food to last the four soldiers three days, and it is said to carry enough fuel to take it 200 miles this office Saturday is a sample of the without recharging, as well as being guaranteed to make 100 miles on an ordinary country road in 12 hours. He must deduct from the apparent cost the saving in the longer life of the cake, in the longer life of the washed fabric, in the labor required, in the time consumed, in the strength expended, in the results obtained. When all is finished, Ivory is the cheapest soap in the world. It floats.

STEAMER FOUNDERED.

Thirty-Four Persons Went Down With the Monticelle Off Nova Scotia, Four Were Fortunate Enough to Reach the Shore.

Six Lives Lost by the Wreck of the Myra S. Weaver In Vineyard Sound.

Yarmouth, N. S., Nov. 12.-The shore of this county for 10 miles east and west is strewn with wreckage of the hull and cargo of the steamer City of Monticello which foundered Saturday morning, and 25 bodies of victims of the disaster have been recovered from the sea. The bodies were arranged in a ghastly row in the public hall, and Coroner Fuller, who held an inquest, gave an opinion of accidenta drowning. All the bodies are terribly battered, and bloodstains bespatter the rocks and wreckage.

The side-wheel steamer City of Monti cello, bound from St. John for Yarmouth was overwhelmed only four miles from her destination by mountainous seas and engulfed with 34 of her passengers and crew. The tragedy resembles the loss of the steamer City of Portland, and differs in one particular, that four of the Monticello's people survive by a miracu

Captain Harding has expected the torm to abate, but the wind increased in the afternoon, and raised the waves to a tremendous height.

Progress Friday night was slow, th steamer rolling and plunging in a frightful manner, making at it difficult to fire and control the ship. The wind and sea rose higher toward morning, and im mense combers broke over the Monticello from end to end, and continually buried her in water. There was no comfort on the steamer, which shook in every timber when the seas struck under the overhang of the cabins, threatening t break the boat into sections.

It became evident that she could no loat many hours unless the sea went down, and the captain prepared to leave the steamer.

A race for life began. The Monticell made slow progress through mountain ous seas. The land was in sight from 8 o'clock Saturday morning and the steamer gradually reduced the distance At 11 o'clock she was six miles fro Yarmouth.

The sea was mountainous and the saptain ordered the small boats lowered to send the women ashore, as the Montiello threatened foundering momentarily A small boat and a large metallic life boat were lowered.

At the same time, Collector Gill sent a notice of the removal to the daily papers published in McCrillis' district. In the course of a lengthy interview, Collector Gill said that for some time past he has noticed slight irregularities in McCrillis' returns, but it was not until about two weeks ago that he was convinced that there was something wrong with his deputy's finances. He discovered, he says, that McCrillis had held back various taxes paid by that rations served had to be thrown divers merchants in his district, and complaints were being received that internal had they not paid exorbitant rates for revenue stamps for which McCrillis had extra rations. > Aganized Scream Audible Above the Tempes as Steamer Took Final Plunge.

Halifax, Nov. 13.-As far as can be ascertained, the total number of lives lost from the steamer City of Monticello is 34. Furniture and miscellaneous articles composing the steamer's cargo and fittings have been cast up on the beach, and no small quantity looted by the crowds that scour the shore.

Stewardess Smith of the Monticello who was the only woman saved, recounts the story of the wreck substantially the same as the other survivors. Up till midnight Friday no apprehensions were entertained. The sea, which smashed the forward bulkhead, flooded the saloon and rendered it untenable. The two women passengers, Elsie McDonald and a colored woman named Lawrence, re mained in their staterooms all night and left their compartments on Saturday morning when they were ordered to take to the boats.

Even after the flooding of the saloon the stewardess says she did not realize that the steamer was in danger. The boat tossed and pitched frightfully in her long battle through the night with chief engineer told the stewardess the steamer was leaking, and the water was putting the fires out in the stoke hole. The pumps could not be worked, as the steam was fast going down in the boilers There was no excitement in getting the boats ready and lowered.

Everything preparatory for leaving was coolly executed, and the women were ordered to enter the first boat. One of the sailors steadied each of the women in turn as they waited on the rail of the steamer ready to get in the boat, as the steamer rolled upward.

Miss Smith corroborates other survivors that one boat filled alongside the Monticello with several men in her Five minutes after the boat with the women pushed off the Monticello broke in two and sank. She was constantly boarded by heavy combers, which broke the steering gear, the wheelbox and covering of the steering gear, carried away the compass and demolished the boat. "Nomination papers are being circulated for the Hon. Charles H. Porter for school committee from Ward 1 number of years, but through some oversight he was not placed in nomination at the Republican caucus Friday not to again be a candidate. Upon This caused a few slight changes in learning from Col. Porter that he was ceptably filled for years, his friends immediately got out nomination papers

It is a little remarkable that there could have been any oversight. In the White, J. E. McDonnell, J. J. Barry, T. F. It was not until the recount of Ward Daily Ledger of Cct. 23, and the Cain. Again the nominations for the caucuses were published in full on Edward Twitchell, John Connolly. Tuesday, Nov. 6, four days in advance of the caucuses.

The facts are that it was understood that Mr. Porter did not care for a reelection; that no one rushed in to get the nomination; but when it was found on Monday afternoon, -the last day, -that no nomination had been filed for School Committee, the friends of Frank F. Prescott prevailed upon him to allow the use of his name.

At the caucus Mr. Prescott received practically all the votes, and is therefore the regular Republican nominee, and entitled to support. In an interview by the Ledger, Mr. Prescott says he would much prefer a citizen's nomination, as there should be no politics or religion in the management of our public schools, but as nominations are made in party conventions he is pleased to accept the What Shall We Have for Dessert ? ## Feeling, However, That Nine Years Is Enough.

Friction Also Between Council and School Committee.

It has been suggested that Hon Charles H. Porter be nominated for School Committee at large at the Republican convention on Friday evening, but there are two objections: one because it would displace Dr. H. C Hallowell, whose term expires; and nother, that Mr Porter has served long enough on the School Committee, and that a change would be beneficial. Some are even in favor of a new candidate at large in place of Dr. Hallowell for a similar reason.

Mr. Porter, as a citizen remarks, has already served nine years on the School board, three years longer than any other member, and on the whole with satisfaction, but our public schools must not get into ruts and occasional changes are desirable. Dr. Hallowell and Dr. Record come next in point of service, as they will next month complete their sixth year.

Said citizen further says two terms of three years are long enough for any member to serve on the School Committee, and when it is prolonged an ther term of three years, it should certainly come to an end with the ninth rear. Should Mr. Porter be reelected nis term would be twelve years.

61 to 67 Hancock St., Quincy. Mr. Porter is a busy gentleman, withut children in our public schools, and has not the time to keep in touch with the daily routine of school work. In fact he has been absent from several meetings of the School board this year, OFFICE HOURS-Until 9 A. M., 2 to 4 and and is very seldom at the meetings of the City Council as required by City Charter.

It is an open secret that the attitude of Chairman Porter to the City Counci has caused friction between the Council on University Homeophathic School of icine, wishes to announce to the people of attic and vicinity the opening of an office at louse of Mr. E. R. Wade, corner of Atlantic and the School Committee, which seriously jeopardizes the annual appropriations for schools and school accommodations. That in the spring of this Tuesdays, Wednesdays, Thursdays and Fridays, vear the Council refused to take any stock in his arguments in favor of ar increased appropriation for the schools, and deliberately voted a sum which Now's the Time they knew was smaller than required. Since that time the Council has unanimously voted $3,500 additional.

Sawdust as Fuel. The use of sawdust as a fuel in Austria is discussed in a report from Consul Hughes of Coburg to the state department at Washington. He says that in Austria, where everything in the shape of fuel is being carefully investigated, sawdust is impregnated with a mixture of tarry substances and heated to the proper temperature. It is then passed over a plate of iron heated by steam, from which a screw conveyor takes it to a press, where it is comsize. The press turns out 19 per minute, weighing two-fifths of a pound he was discharged. each and measuring 6 by 21/2 by 11/2 inches. Beginning at Shangtung, in the Yellow sea, the coast line of China is dotted with islands clear down to Hongkong, a distance of over 2,000 miles. lieve they would number 10,000, great and small. While some are uninhabited, there is not an honest community on one of them. The people are wreckers and pirates to a man, and woe betide the ship which meets with disaster on any of the island shores. From the above port. In the year 1868 this had held office for years, and his reputation was that of a devil. There was no question but that he encouraged piracy and got his divide, and his orders all along the coast line were to kill every white person who might fall into the hands of his subjects. The fellow was subordinate to the governor of Shanghai, but whenever he was brought up on the complaint of a European consul he managed to get the best of it. He was fairly well educated, a finished liar and hypocrite, and there was no catching him.

In the year I have mentioned above gertain Americans in Hongkong decided to fit out an opium clipper to supply the port of Shanghai. Opium smuggling was against the law, of course, and any person found engaged in the trade was beheaded at once, but you might as well try to keep rice as opium out of China. The profits in smuggling has always been part of the business Yang-tse-Kiang I was sent up to arrange matters with Chee-Wing-Su. There was no beating around the bush.

We made the bay at night as we returned, but the guns were double shot ted, the muskets and pistols loaded, and every man was at his post. The first thing we knew we were surrounded by five junks, and then a fight began which lasted 40 minutes. We sunk ashore, with the loss of but three men on our side. There would be 30 Chinamen aboard of us when discharging cargo; but, though they were a villainous lot, we felt no fear of them and did not keep the crew even under arms. We were within a day's sail of port on our return when the captain was struck by an idea. Chee-Wing-Su knew that our cargo would be a heavy one. Suppose he should have planned to cut the clipper out in harbor? All he had to do was to put men enough aboard, and when he had exterminated the crew and taken possession who was to betray him? He had men who could sail the craft and by giving her a new coat of paint, a new name and making some changes in her rig she could not be recognized. Even if she were, what would her owners dare do about it? To have set up a claim would have been to convict them selves of smuggling. As for wiping out a score of Europeans, he would consider that as a sort of duty under 0-0-0-0-0-0-0-0-0-0-0-0-0-0-0 any circumstances.

They were armed with knives only, while we had cutlasses. No firearms were used. The fellows made a good stand for about five minutes, and then we began driving them. No quarter was given. When the last living yellow devil went overboard, there were 30 dead ones on our decks. Of course, the row was heard in the cabin. At the first sound Captain Walters laid his revolver on the table before him and said to Chee-Wing-Su: "There seems to be some skylarking going on above, but we will not interfere with it."

"If my men are creating any trouble, must go up and stop it," replied the old pirate.

Boston, Nov. 16.—During the cane rush the Massachusetts institute of technology yesterday, Hugh C. Moore of Rochester, aged 19, a member of the freshman class, was so badly injured that he died while being taken to the hospital.

Moore had taken part in a football game earlier in the afternoon. He had been sick recently, and was probably in man answering his description had been no condition to take part in both con- arrested in Chicago. The prisoner was tests. who chanced to be present, applied restoratives and did everything possible to revive him, but to no purpose. Nearly all the spectators had left the field, and they were thus spared a shock. Moore, who presently lapsed into total unconsciousness, was placed in a city hospital ambulance that had been summoned, but breathed his last almost as the door of the institution was reached. The young man's father was notified of the event, and is expected here today. Being a freshman, young Moore was not well known, but those who did know him speak of him in the highest terms.

The rush in itself was one of the roughest and most fiercely contested in the history of the M. I. T., in which the sophomores won, 19 to 11. It lasted 15 minutes, and consisted of a desparate centralized scrimmage, in which 200 young men endeavored to get their hands upon the cane.

When the rush began the freshmer had the cane, and about half of them were formed in a solid square to defend it The other half were divided squads, designed to break the first force of the flying wedge, with which the sophomore charged the square. Moore was one of the immediate defenders of the cane. PRISONER SHOT TO DEATH. Charge of Murder Made Against a Keeper It Boston House of Correction.

Boston, Nov. 16 .- While making an attack on Henry W. Dean, one of the keepers at the house of correction, John Johnson, a colored man, serving 30 months' sentence for perjury, was shot yesterday, and died almost instantly. According to the story as told by the police, Johnson had complained Wednesday night of being ill, and was taken to the hospital. Yesterday morning he said he did not sleep well, and made additional complaints as to his condition The prisoner was placed in a cell in the hospital, and remarked that he would make trouble if Dean was allowed to enter his cell. The officer was told to enter the cell and try and quiet the prisoner, and as soon as Dean did this, Johnson rushed at him with a bucket in one hand and a stool in the other. Dean, realizing his danger, drew his revolver and sent a bullet through the prisoner, from the effects of which the latter died within a few minutes.

The officials say that Dean was perfectly justified in shooting the man, but Dean was arraigned before Judge Fallon yesterday afternoon, when he was held between the sophomores and freshmen of without bail on the charge of murder. Johnson was arrested early in the spring of 1899, charged with the larceny of a lot of trousers. He pleaded his viction at two appearances before the grand jury.

Chief Inspector Watts began to look up his record and finally found that a Chief Inspector Walts sent to Chicago and had the Bertillon measurements, together with the man who made the arup, while hands were still being counted rest in that city, brough to Boston. THE CZAR'S SICKNESS Causing Grave Anxiety Among the European Advocates of Peace.

His Malady May Be More Serious Than Represented.

Rumor Current In Rome That Attempt Was Made to Poison the Monarch.

London, Nov. 16 .- The serious appre hension with which the announcemen of the fact that the czar was suffering from typhoid fever filled Europe emphasizes how much the peace of the world is believed to be dependent upon him.

But for the statement contained in the official bulletin that his majesty's malady is taking a thoroughly favorable course, the news of his illness would have created nothing less than conster nation. It is generally felt at the pres own case in court and failed of con- ent critical state of international affairs that even a temporary weakening of the influence of so favorable a factor in the maintenance of the world's peace jus tifies great anxiety, especially as the czar is regarded in Europe as a kind o a counterpoise to Emperor William.

Public anxiety will, therefore, remain strained until the none too robust mor arch recovers. In political circles an other issue of his majesty's malady is re garded as a nightmare.

The impression exists in most European olas is more serious than it is repre sented to be, but this is probably base upon knowledge that the czar's consti tution is not strong, and is little likely to resist a serious attack. In Copenhagen the illness is attribute to overwork in connection with the Chi nese crisis, and there is also a suspici that the hygenic conditions and wate supply at Livadia may be faulty. There is no news from St. Petersbur on the subject beyond the official bulle tins, which indicate that the attack i only slight, no high temperature having yet been reached. A rumor is current in Rome that the llness of the czar is due to poisoning, and t is asserted that cipher telegrams have een received at the Vatican saying that an attempt was made to poison both the mperor and empress, but that the lat ter was not affected. This story, however, is not believed. King Victor Em manuel selegraphed for definite informa tion, and got a quick reply that the czar was as well as could be expected. The illness of Emperor Nicholas is com

Drift of Opinion.

The theory that the India uestion in this country will eventually settle itself by the dying out of the race oes not receive encouragement from the report of the Indian commissioner. In the latest document from that official the statement is made that the Indian population has diminished very little from the days of Columbus and John Smith, Since the system of census enumeration was not entirely perfected in the days of Columbus. the comparative statement can hardly be based upon figures. - New Bedford

The "rummage" sales are being made responsible for lots of funny things. A Somerville man bid in a nice pair of trousers which he afterwards found had been sent to the sale by his wife. A man in Belvidere found his rubber boots had gone to a similar L. M. PRATT & CO., affair. The season had but just opened, and it behooves the man who is so ortunate as to have any clothes to lock them up and carry the key around with him.-Watham Free Press.

GREAT EXPLORING TRIP.

Difficulties Which Await Travelers In That Inhospitable Region-Wagon With Broad Tires, Especially Adapted For Sand Travel, Will Be Used on the Trin-Tour Described.

The geological survey has decided to finish the geological explorations in the Great American desert it began last year, for which purpose Josiah Edward Spurr, geologist of the United States geological survey, together with four employees of the department, is making preparations for the trip, says the Washington correspondent of the Cincinnati Commercial Tribune. This will include a portion of the Great American desert in southern Nevada, southeastern California, southwestern Arizona, including the Yuma, or Colorado, desert; the Majobe desert, the Amazon desert, the Ralston desert, the Death valley region and other places. One of the absolutely necessary and indispensable articles for the trip, and one upon which Mr. Spurr is now engaged superintending the construction of, is a wagon with broad tires, adapted for sand travel, and all other necessary personal commodities, as well as official apparatus.

result in a long casualty list. The train Ceremony on Spot Where Crime Was Committed.

> Organized Plans Fully Carried Out Withou Discussion or Interruption.

Limon, Col., Nov. 17 .- At a mass meeting here an organization was perfected beneath with hardly a scratch. Brake- Porter, Jr., the colored boy who assaultman Sylvester was cut about the head, ed and murdered Louise Frost, an 11. with the decision reached, Porter chained to a railroad rail set firmly in the ground on the exact spot where his crime was committed, last evening paid a terrible penalty for his deed.

The train bearing the negro in custody Boston, Nov. 17.—The remains of Hugh of Sheriff Freeman and his deputies arand people who were curious to see the residence of President Pritchett to the and demanded the prisoner from the riving there, the students formed in two allow him to take his prisoner to the lines, between which the casket was county jail at Hugo, but his protests

It was at first announced that the ne leave the method of death to the outraged father. He decided upon burn ing at the stake. The train was the allowed to proceed and at Lake station the party left the train and began pre parations for the deed of vengeance.

Wagons were dispatched for wood assisted in preparing it for the fire When at last preparations were com pleted a further delay was made becaus it was known many were on their way All the legal paraphernalia incident to a from Hugo and other parts of the count to take part in the affair. It was 6:23 o'clock when the father of the murdered girl touched the match to the fuel piled around the stake, and 2 minutes later a last convulsive shudde told that life was extinct. What agony the doomed boy suffered while the flames shriveled up his flesh could only be guessed from the terrible contortions o his face, and the cries he gave from time to time.

Preston Porter did not seem to realiz the awful punishment he was destine to undergo. As he had exhibited indifference to the enormity of his crim so he seemed to lack all understanding of its terrible consequences.

When everything was ready he walked to the stake with a firm step, pausing as he reached the circle of broken boards kneel in prayer. He was allowed to take his time. He arose and placed his back to the iron stake, and half a dozen me wound chains around his body and limbs Kerosene oil was applied to the wood and, after a brief pause, Richard Frost the father of Louise Frost, applied match.

For a moment but a little flickering flame arose, then the oil blazed up, spark flew into the air, and the wood began t chackle. Almost instantly the negro' trousers caught fire. Even though the flesh must have been scorched, he did not utter a sound. The flames crept slowl upward on his clothing, the sparks flew up in clouds of pale smoke. Porter turned his head and a frightful expres sion changed his face. With a sudde convulsive tugging he stretched his head as far from the rapidly increasing flame as possible and uttered a cry of pain.

"Oh, my God, let me go, men. I've got something more to tell you. Please let me go. Oh, my God, my God." In terrible screeches these words, th first he had uttered aloud, came from the negro. A terrible tugging at the chains a succession of awful groans and screams, the negro's agony was at las breaking down his sullen composure. H the rope holding his hands burned through. Then arms, head and shoul ders slipped through the chains. For a instant the body stood erect, the arm were raised in supplication while burn ing pieces of clothing dropped from them The body then fell away from the fire the head lower than the feet, still fas-tened to the rail. The body was then in such a position that only the legs were in The cries of the wretch were redoubled and he again begged to be shot. Som wanted to throw him over into the fire were carried and a large pile made ove the prostrate body. They were soon ignited and the terrible heat and lack of air quickly rendered the victim uncor scious, bringing death in a few minutes This terrible ceremony, out upon the rol ing prairie, concluded the second traged upon that spot, the terrible avenging of the first.

Throughout the affair but little was said. As they had come prepared for the avenging 300 people carried out their plan coolly and deliberately. There was not a hitch in the entire proceeding Not a weapon was drawn; there was n angry discussion. After the fire had burned low they told each other good night and they went home without stopping to discuss the affair.

The negro had, since his confession been devoting every minute of daylight to the persual of a Bible given him by the Denver jailer. Even while waiting for his execution he sat by a bonfire read ing from the gospel of St. Luke. Jus before he was tied to the stake, upon cratic ticket, has filed a statement cer- a request for souvenirs, the boy tore the tifying that his expenses and contribu- leaves from the Bible and distributed them among his executioners.

Norway and Denmark were united for many centuries as one kingdom until the early part of this century. Sweden was also at one time a part of the union. When the coalition was formed against Napoleon, one of the conditions was that in event of success Sweden and Norway should be united under one king. The Norwegians offered resistance to this plan and elected as king the heir of the old royal line of Sweden. He proved incompetent, and the Swedish king, who was formerly Napoleon's marshal, Bernadotte, became king as well of Norway. Each of the two halves of the monarchy retained its own constitution and was in fact autonomous. The union has not proved altogether a peaceable one, and there have been continual threats of secession on the part of the Norwegians. The present king, Oscar II, has been successful in conciliating his reheir apparent, Prince Gustave, is a firebrand to them. He has persistently and successfully opposed their desires for greater freedom in foreign affairs and for separation.

The main Exposition buildings are some 20 or more in number and are arranged about a system of beautiful courts some 33 acres in extent. The arrangement is such as to permit the most exquisite decorative effects that the best trained artists of the world may be able to produce. Space will permit only an enumera-

Prices of commodities advance almost without exception, and all the changes in manufactured goods are in the direction of firmer quotations. The smallness of stocks of goods carried is a feature of our reports from most of the leading centers. Scarcity of labor gives manufacturers in the middle states great con-

Activity at iron and steel mills increases, and there is an equally uniform advance in quotations. The gain has been more general this week than at any previous time this season.

Packer hides at Chicago have ceased to advance, but remain firm at top figures, and only slightly altered, while most grades are steady at former figures Belting butts have advanced sharply, Boot and shoe manufacturers are still unable to secure any advance in quowell attended to at the Pan-American tations, although they are attempting to raise lists 21/2 cents.

Textile industries are rather quiet, although heavy weight goods are not yet seeking raw material in great quantity, and wool is not changed in price. Sales at three chief eastern markets have again increased.

The much-discussed advance in meats at Chicago was not heavy, but scarcity of first quality fresh eggs has brought very high prices.

Cotton rose slightly. Exports to Great Britain continue heavy, even at prices 2 cents higher than a year ago. Failures for the week were 217 in the United States, against 219 last year.

channels, and will be fed by a process of Cincinnati, Nov. 19.—The German National bank at Newport, Ky., was taken possession of by United States Bank Examiner Tucker yesterday and he posted a notice that the bank would remain closed pending an examination. Examiner Tucker also announced unofficially $2,000,000. The companies to be operated that Frank M. Brown, the individual bookkeeper and assistant cashier, was missing and that a partial investigation showed that Brown was short about $201,000.

Brown had been with the bank 18 years, was one of the most trusted men ever connected with this old bank, and it is stated by the experts that his peculation will be merged into one corporation, with extended back as far as 10 years. The capital stock of the bank is only $100,00 Brown's alleged shortage is double that amount and more than the reserve and all the assets, including the real estate. The First National bank of Newport was wrecked two years ago by Cashier Yout sey and now, with the German Nationa losed, Newport has only one bank left. For two weeks there have been rumors that Brown was short and some depositors withdrew their accounts. Three veeks ago the bank examiners made a good statement for the bank, and the oficers and directors allayed suspicion b referring to the report of this examina tion and to their last statement. Las Wednesday Brown left and it was an ounced that he had gone hunting on acation. He got a ticket for Odlin, Ills., but it is learned now that he did not go there, and it is generally believed that h is out of this country with plenty of noney in his possession

It is learned that Brown was suspended last Tuesday, pending an investigation, and the experts have been at work all the past week while the officers and directors have been making announcement that everything was all right. Last Friday the officers and directors, over their own names, published in the papers of this ity a statement that the bank had been about Brown were false. They continued making these statements to the press as late as midnight Saturday, but the statements were not accepted by The Commercial Tribune, which exposed the aleged defalcation and caused a panic in Newport yesterday so that the bank had to be taken in charge by the examiner. Brown, it is alleged, was living a fast life with wine, women and gambling in his repertoire. His career was not cu short by any discovery at the bank until

Brown is a widower, with one son, aged 10 years, who lives with Brown's father, ex-mayor of Newport. Last summe Brown visited Yellowstone park and a Cincinnati woman wanted to accompany him, but this was denied her. When she ascertained some time afterward that another woman was with Brown on his western trip the Cincinnati woman gave the bank officials some information that brought about a crisis. ## KEITH RENOMINATED speech was as follows:

I have to say. Mr. Keith's written

Something New in Political Nomination 'It seems necessary to say a word or wo in regard to making appointments certain officials. You have no doubt heard that if elected I had appointed this one or that one to the various offices, and you know that this is the season when such stories are plentiful. It is a matter of regret in some ways that the election of Mayor should be complicated with the question of appointments, and we seem to have reached the time in Quincy when a Mayor cannot be chosen for more than one term in succession. For some reasons it might be a good thing if our charter were amended so that some of the principal offices, in which the people take most interest, should be filled by the voters them-

Continuing, he said, two years ago determined I would conduct the affairs of the city so as to bring no liscredit to those who brought me to office, and now make the same promise. It appears to me from what I hear on the street that we ought to win. I want to carry on an honorable cam-

Political Potpourri. Joseph W. Johnson was very much surprised when he learned that the Democratic convention had nominated him for Councilman at Large, He thought it must be a joke. When convinced that it was really so he thought it rather queer that they should nominate him without consulting him. Then again he was a Republican. Besides, he had a business that demanded all of his attention and he did not desire the office and should not neglect his business or get into any political controversy. This means that Mr. Johnson will lose no time in withdraw-

They will sail for New York next Saturday. The duke wishes it to be known that he married for love. He has not asked and does not hope for a dowry with the lady."

Miss Zimmerman was to have sailed for home last week, and her father was to have met her in New York. About all that has been required of In Ward Five the law relating to caucuses was not complied with, so the caucus failed to elect a chairman and a secretary, but did allow one person to act in a dual capacity, and the eer-tage of the caucus failed to elect a chairman and a secretary, but did allow one person to act in a dual capacity, and the eer-tage of the members was to sign a pledge not to wear feather millinery. Each society was an independent body, with a membership of more than 50,000. The other day's congress, attended by delegates from as far away as Illinois and the District of Columbia, took steps to form some sort of a league.

It is proposed to institute a bird study scheme suggested by Frank M. Chapman to include an annual summer gathering modeled on the Chautauqua idea. Both the schemes were so well received that it is believed they will beome a part of the Audubon society programme. A committee to formulate a plan for carrying the ideas into effect is to be chosen by President Charles Sedgwick Minot.

The storm entered the state from northern Mississippi and swept across damage is reported from the counties ordering on Mississippi, and further on Columbia is the heaviest sufferer. In its path everything is completely wrecked ot even the iron and stone fence of the storm's path was through a section of town populated chiefly by negroes and larger number damaged. The sufferings of the people rendered homeless and bereft of all their goods is pitiable.

The number of houses destroyed in the Nolensville neighborhood is 16. There the great fight in this country would be were two fatalities. All of the 16 houses were totally destroyed. One man had $400 in money, and this was blown away and only part recovered. A colored baby, reported lost, was

In this short time about 35 dwellings were turned into kindling wood. The loss of life is small compared with the miraculous escapes The wind made a swath about 200 yards wide through the middle of the town. The Lavergne high school and the depot the two largest buildings, were laid flat on the ground. The loss of these two buildings is placed at $7000. The railroad lost four section houses also. George Robinson's house, which was a very strong log structure, was in the middle of the path of the storm and was laid flat on the ground. At the time, Mr. Robinson and his child, 6 months old, had retired, and his wife was sitting near the bed sewing, and before the latter could even warn her husband, death had claimed them. Mrs. Robertson's escape was marvellous. When found the unfortunate man was pinned across the back by a large timber, and there was a great scar on the back of his neck. No mark could be discerned on the body of the child. Both are thought to have met instant death.

In almost every home there were several injured. Houses and timber in Sumner county also suffered considerably, but first reports sent out from Gallatin were exaggerated.

Great suffering is being experienced by those deprived of homes at Lavengne and

The broad streets and boulevards through which the route lay presented a perfect welcome the aged Boer statesman. From the moment the white 12-oared barge left the side of the Gelderland with President Kruger sitting in the stern, a storm of cheering broke out and never ceased until Mr. Kruger had entered his hotel. Yet the grandeur of this demonstration perhaps, ranks second in importance to the emphatic manifestos of "No compromise," which Mr. Kruger delivered in a low voice, but one vibrating with emotion, accompanied by energetic gestures of the right hand, stirring the hearts of all within hearing. Replying to the addresses of welcome, Mr. Kru-

"My first duty is to thank your government for all the tokens of interest that again only recently it was pleased to give me. They burn the farms we worked so hard to construct, and they drive out our women and children, whose husbands and brothers they have killed or taken prisoners, leaving them unprotected and roofless, and often without bread to eat. But whatever they may do, we will never surrender. We will fight to the end. Our great, imperishable confidence reposes in the Eternal, in our God. "I can assure you that if the Transvaal independence it will be because all the Boer people have been destroyed with their women and children."

The sentences of his declaration were uttered with a vigor and decision which bore out his reputation as the incarnation of iron will and stubborn resistance. He announced to the world that the oers would be a free people or die, and the faces of the Boer resresentatives about him bore the look of fearless determination, reflecting the spirit that Mr. Kruger declared animated every man, woman and child in the Transvaal.

Every one expressed astonishment at the robust and healthy appearance of Mr. Kruger, considering Lis advanced age. He walked firmly, leaning but lightly upon his cane, when he crossed the landing stage to the landau in which he drove with Dr. Leyds and MM. Pauliat and Thourel. The landau was followed by five carriages containing Boer officials and these were followed by six others conveying the officers of the Gelderland and the members of the Marseilles reception committee, all forming a procession headed by various societies with handsome banners and escorted by a large police force.

Unfortunately the foolishness of a half dozen persons in throwing small coins into the crowd as Mr. Kruger passed acted like magic in conjuring up an anti British outburst, which needed all the promptitude and energy of the police to prevent becoming a serious disturbance.

How Weather Works Wonders.

Not the least mysterious of all the wonders of the earth is the extraordinary cleverness of Dame Nature as The Ledger upon inquiry at City Hal a carver and designer. Her tools are air, rain, rivers, springs and frost. Any one who has ever seen the marvelous Queen Bess rock on the North Cornish coast, that wonderful presentment of the great Queen Elizabeth. who is seated so grandly upon the sands, must have asked himself the question as to how such a thing could have been accomplished.

Continuous trickling of water wears away the face of the rock. Haphazard it was until at last a weird pat tern is formed that sometimes resem bles a man's face, sometimes an ani mal. All over the world Nature has placed her picture gallery and her collection of statuary, the biggest free show in the world.

Another work of Nature's that very often results in extraordinary changes being effected is a landslip.

And landslips have arisen from the tiniest possible causes. A little underground flow of water had gradually undermined a hill or cliff until at last the earth became like a hollow nut. Then the soil became top heavy. The sea beat against its foundations, and into the sea, which proves the axiom that the tiniest beginnings often pro- years. duce the mightiest ends.

The Present the Most Prosperous Year Since the Civil War-Prospects For the Opening Century Even Better-Work That Is Under Way-Cramp on the Variag.

The eighth annual meeting of the Society of Naval Architects and Marine Engineers closed the other night with a banquet of the members at Delmonico's, says the New York Sun.

Clement A. Griscom, president of the International Navigation company, who was again re-elected president of the society, said that this had been the most prosperous year for shipbuilding in the United States since the outbreak of the civil war and predicted that the century about to begin would witness a development of the industry which would respond to the high hopes of the members of the society when it was "During the fiscal year of the gov-

These figures are modest compared with Great Britain's output of 567 steel steam vessels of 1,341,-425 gross tons during the year, but they are full of encouragement when put beside the fact that during the previous nine years the United States built only 574.802 gross tons of these types. "I have had no opportunity yet to discuss the matter with the president. My own ideas are that there should be an army of 96,000 enlisted men, organized so that it can be reduced to a minimum of about 51,000. These figures are exclusive of officers. My purpose now is to call the committee shortly after C Full 6 p.m. | Shew 22 a.m. | Thanksgiving, frame the bill before congress meets, and pass it before the holidays. In Actual Campaigning Men Say the Old Hard Tack and Bacon Would Be Better-Fast Time Made on the Trip-Captain Fountain's Views of

The emergency ration intended for soldiers on long marches has been given a thorough test, and the result, ac cording to officers and men, is that it is only a qualified success, says a Wichita (Kan.) dispatch to the Chicago Tribune. The food is declared satisfactory for an ordinary march, but if there was fighting to be done the ration would not prove sufficient.

In actual warfare, with the hard work incident to a real campaign, say those who tried the prepared food, the ration would become monotonous and not as valuable as the ordinary hard tack and bacon. With good water and a comfortable overland expedition in which the men could take their time

The men retained their fine spirits.

During the march the men lived wholly upon the emergency rations, partaking of no other food. They were under strict watch of the officers. For which would produce an increased of the men wanted to go back to hard tack and bacon despite the protests of Surrendered Only After Being Practically Smothered In Hand to Hand Conflict.

Washington, Nov. 24.—The story of the rescue of Captain Shields and 50 men of the Twenty-ninth infantry, after their capture by the insurgents in Marindique, is given in considerable detail in mail advices from Manila. The fight that Captain Shields and his party put up against an overwhelming force is declared to have been one of the most brilliant incidents in the history of bush fighting in the archipelago.

The 50 men in question were pursuing a party of insurgents of superior force into the mountains, when they were ambushed in a box canyon by a force of 250 riflemen and 1800 bolomen. They made a continuous fight for eight hours, killing a large number of the insurgents, and were overpowered only after they meeting of the ministers in Pekin. Some $3.50 a bale in 10 days. #### AS A MATTER OF ECONOMY. Chairman Hull Will Urge That the Army Bill Be Passed Without Delay.

Washington, Nov. 24.—Chairman Hull of the house committee on military affairs, yesterday called a meeting of the committee for next Tuesday. He hopes that a quorum will be present, and that the committee can go to work upon the outlines of a new army bill:

"It will be in the direction of economy to pass the army bill without delay.' said Mr. Hull. The army now in the Philippines will have to be brought home in the summer, that is, those of the men who do not care to reinlist. The transports which go out for them should depart laden with the troops who are to replace them, else the ships will make one voyage empty."

Mr. Hull was in conference yesterday with the president and with officials of the war department upon the character of legislation desired by the administration. He said the president will communicate to congress very fully his recommendations about the army, and he did not assume to speak the president's mind in advance. He thought, however, that the administration would not be content with any make-shift legislation, no proposition to continue the present law for two years more. His impression was that the president wanted authority to raise a regular army sufficient for the needs of the country, 100,000 men if necessary, the number to be reduced when there was no longer need for them. Mr. Hull said that the Taft commission had reported that 15,000 Filipinos could . be enlisted immediately in the army for the Philippines, and that they would make good soldiers under American officers. There was no fear of Great Britain's experience with the Sepoys, for the Filipinos, Mr. Hull said, have no national feeling like the natives of India. Moreover, added Mr. Hull, the experiment of enlisting native troops has proven successful, and there were no more loyal nor more efficient soldiers than the natives enlisted in the British army in

In addition to the bills which the City Auditor has already been authorized to approve, there are still pending in the hands of the Finance Committee large bills in excess of the appropriations for plumbing of the Coddington and Wollaston schoolhouses expended by Commissioner Cavanagh, and against other appropriations, which if paid would make the excess of appropriations of 1899 between $8,000 and $9,000. to join in the acclamations. The Boer statesman and his friends were much elated, but they had never foreseen the still more elaborate enthusiasm that was awaiting their arrival at Dijon, which they reached at 5:15 p. m. The municipality had taken the matter into its own hands, and the result was a demonstration such as never before had been witnessed within the memory of the oldest inhabitants.

Mr. Kruger, on alighting from the train, was welcomed by the authorities, and then walked to a landau standing before the door of the station. Near the landau stood a band which, as he emerged, struck up a Boer hymn, which was followed by the Marseilles.

The mement the landau started a battery of artillery, belonging to the municlpality, began to fire a salute of 21 guns. The cannons were heavily charged, and ear-splitting detonations accompanied Mr. Kruger as he slowly proceeded to the hotel. Illuminations and salvos heightened the excitement of the huge

Finally the carriage reached the hotel, which faces on a spacious square. Mounted gendarmes kept a route open across this square, and escorted the landau. Mr. Kruger, who was bareheaded, bowed to the right and left as he rode along.

His apartment, which is on the first story and has a balcony draped with Boer and French flags, overlooks the square, and the spectacle from the balcony was such an one as Mr. Kruger hed ever witnessed before. He uttered a few words of thanks, which were interpreted and shouted down to

The crowd in the streets was decidedly hostile to England, raising anti-British cries. A procession of students parad d, chanting monotonously denunciations of everything English. The enthusiasm lasted until a late hour.

Kitchener Made Her Tremble.

During the Anglo-Boer war a smart, good looking married woman of about 0 years of age acted as a Boer spy. She was married to a Russian civil enineer resident at Johannesburg, and at the outbreak of war the "slim" Transvaalers sent her over the border labeled "dangerous." She established herself at Cape Town and soon managed to extract information from impressionable English officers. A correspondent who met this clever woman in Cape Town said:

"When Lord Kitchener of Khartum arrived in Africa, she went to meet him, for she knew that if she could get inside his secrets she could learn all things. #### German Law of Libel. The German law of libel is a curiosity. An editor recently said in his paper that a certain gentleman "was an unmannerly boor," in consequence of which a libel action was brought against the paper. The evidence given seemed to show that the only fault with the expression was that it was not strong enough. The case was taken from court to court in the usual way until it reached the highest tribunal. The final decision was that the editor plate with a doily and fill half full of would have been perfectly justified if he had said that the plaintiff "had acted like an unmannerly boor," but since he had said that the plaintiff actually "was an unmannerly boor" he had committed libel. In Germany it is libelous to call a man a pig or an ass, but if you combine the two and call a man a pig ass then there is no libel, because such an animal does not exist. The favorite combination among Germans is, we believe, pig dog-schweinehund.-Chambers' Journal.

Tradition plays to important a part in the arrangement of the Thanksgiving dinner that the mistress of the home is not allowed all the latitude that the individual taste of the family or her own inclinations may suggest in preparing the Thanksgiving menu. But, whatever the custom may be regarding the menu for the day, she is unhampered in the matter of table decoration. Fashions of the diving table and of dinner giving are as much observed in polite society as the latest ideas in dress. But so long as one adheres to the rules of suitability there is no danger of offending the critical taste of the most exacting. Often the personal attention a hostess gives to the table adornment is the secret of a successful entertainment. For the hostess who is blessed with original ideas in decora- A dollar spent today may save five tion success is assured. There is but one restriction in carrying out the decoration, and that is that the color effect must be in harmony wih the season.

Cut a large pumpkin in two and scoop out one half, taking care not to break the shell. Place it on a mat of green crepe paper in the center of the table. Fill carefully with seasonable fruits, nuts and raisins. Arrange autumn leaves or smilax about the mat, heaping them high, so that the pumpkin is apparently a part of the foliage. Place a carrot candle holder on each card and fasten securely with strong thread. Set the candles in the holders and put one at the right of each plate. Light the candles the last thing before dinner is announced.

In the place of stereotyped finger bowls, large cucumbers are a novelty. Those which have turned yellow are preferable and will prove an agreeable feature of the feast. Cut the cucumbers lengthwise in halves, scoop out the inside, taking care not to puncture the snells. Place each section on a water. Add a drop of lemon juice and a crosswise slice of unpeeled cucumber. The mantel may be banked with leaves and asparagus ferns and the hearth, if not in use, hidden in the same manner.

With the season of gift giving and the annual return of the wanderers close at hand, plans for Christmas decoration naturally intrude upon Thanksgiving reveries. So there are two kinds of meat indigenous to the island which if we were there we could have for our Thanksgiving dinner. If you want another, why there is the armadillo, which is not so very bad if cooked in its shell and served up in its own sauce. It takes a native cook, though, to properly prepare the armadillo and remove from the flesh that distinctly earthy smell it has acquired through a lifetime of digging in the ground.

Then, again, if one is not too fastidious, he can find a delicious tidbit in the quaillike flesh of the iguana. This is a sort of land lizard, which attains to the length of five or six feet and looks so much like a good old fashioned dragon, such as the Chinese are wont to depict in their arts, that one might have qualms about eating it. The meat is tender, like young chickens, and, except for its musky odor, like for chicken if properly served. If used, however, have it stewed and as much as possible disguised by the addition of vegetables, otherwise it might be taken for what Sir Walter Raleigh called it once—"a verie uglie serpent." Without speaking disparagingly of the products of either clime, or exalting the one above the other, it may be stated as a fact that our fellow citizens in Porto Rico can have on their tables, if they choose, more variety of fruit and vegetable than we can on that day provided they exercise a little gumption and bestir themselves in season.

Work on the Pan-American exposition grounds at Buffalo has been pushed so steadily of late that already perfection in the island of St. Thomas. many of the buildings show even in detail the wonderful architecture and harmony of color which it was promised would be a main feature of the enterprise, says the New York Times. > to familiarize the people of all America with the food products of both American continents. These exhibits in themselves will be housed in a building which measures over a third of a mile in circumference. The development of coffee, for example, will be shown "from blossom to cup." Coffee grows more like a cherry than anything else with which people in north temperate latitudes are familiar. The tree, if allowed to grow naturally, will attain a height of 20 feet, though it is often pruned to keep the branches within reach when standing on the ground. For beauty it cannot be excelled even in the tropics. With its deep green shining leaves and pure white, fragrant, though transitory, blossoms, together with the ripening fruit, it produces a picture peculiarly effective.

The fruit, first a tiny green ball, changes to pale red as it develops, and finally, when ripe, the color is a rich brown. It has a pleasant flavor, though rather sweet and somewhat insipid. Its pit is the coffee bean of commerce. Each fruit contains two beans, which that of the alligator, it might be taken grow with the flat sides together in separate cells, though should one become abortive the other grows round and fills both cavities. The coffees exhibited will be the American coffees only. Many rural streams that are now running to waste could be sheltered and stocked with suitable varieties of fish which, if it were known how to cultivate them properly, could be made to yield fortunes for their owners. And not only carp, but catfish, varieties of salmon, eels and many kinds of other food fish will be shown the visitor under cultivation under conditions favorable and otherwise. When properly understood, the question of raising fish is as simple as that of raising poultry and infinitely more profitable.

Another interesting feature of the exhibition will be the drug exhibit. Generally speaking, the public knows less about the source and manufacture of the American drug supply than of almost any other product of our mills and factories. How to make this feature interesting to the layman as well as to the professional man was one of the problems that confronted the exhibitors.

A peculiarity of the tree is that it does not bear cultivation, but prefers a wild, rocky hillside, where it apparently lives upon moisture derived from the atmosphere. Certainly the roots can afford but little sustenance, growing, as they do, in the crevices of rocks and often over perfectly bare surfaces. Healthy leaves grow to the length of three inches by about one inch in width, thick, like the laurel, with a luster that resembles the rubber plant.

Similarly in the cases of all other American drugs there will be exhibits showing the actual cultivation and manufacture of the drugs from tree and from mineral to market.

In Which All the South American Republics May Become Involved.

Chile Rejects Principle of Compulsory Arbitration.

Bolivia, Peru, Argentina and Brazil May Align Themselves Against Her.

Washington, Nov. 26.—It is announced in official diplomatic quarters here that in the debates before the Latin-American congress, whose sessions have just been concluded, the principle of compulsory arbitration, urged by the Peruvian delegates, was approved by almost unaniprotesting against the action taken. The ufacturer at Prattville. discussion not only favored compulsory arbitration in disputes between the American republics, but also provided that guarantees shall be given for the faithful performance of the conclusions reached by the arbitration tribunal. Aside from the immediate question in volved, the decision of the congress is regarded in South American quarters as significant of the alignment of the outhern republics on the increasing diferences which have arisen of late, and which are threatening to bring about a general crisis, involving most, if not all, of the South American countries. Several events have occurred recently in dicating a widespread movement. Peru has been making desperate efforts to regain her provinces of Tacona and Arica, which are a sort of border hostage held nvolved in the same controversy, as she has lost her seacoast to Chile, and is now seeking to save a part of it. The latter question was recently brought to a diect issue by the presentation of a demand from Chile, generally construed as in ultimatum, requiring Bolivia to publicly acknowledge by treaty the sovereignty of Chile over the seacoast in About a month ago Chile adopted the ompulsory military system, under which take steps toward similar military equipnlisted in its national guard.

But the chief concern has been expressed in Argentina and Brazil, and it is the feeling in those countries that the powerful armaments of Chile are not required against such enfeebled states as Peru, Bolivia, Equador and the other northern republics, but will be used gainst Chile's more powerful neighbors eparated by a long boundary line, which is now in dispute. The boundary has frequently threatened an armed conflict, and each country has been steadily increasing its armament, land and naval. It is estimated by one of the prominent zil recently has been brought into the they were opposed over a boundary contest, but by the arbitration of the United the first kick-off. The incoming Legislature should ake early steps to change the law under which it is possible to commit a woman to an insane asylum without a hearing. The Boston Post comments as follows on the case of Mrs. White, who was remanded to Westboro by Judge Morton :-

It was a grave criticism which Jus-

WAS IT NEGLECT?

Attack on the Mayor.

It is quite true that the City Council has the sole power to call a special election, but when they refuse or neg lect to do so then it becomes the duty of the Mayor to send a communication to the Council calling their attention to the requirement of the charter. Having done so, he is free from all censure. He having failed to do so. he is, as I have already said, guilty but also of neglect of duty. Sec. 1 of year. Sec. 2 of the charter reads: "The administration of all the fiscal, prudential and municipal affairs of said city, with the government thereof, shall be vested in an Executive department which shall consist of one officer to be dicted, called the Mayor." It would seem therefore that the entire government of our city is placed in the Mayor's hands alone, which requires him to keep a watchful eye over all departments whether executive or legislative, and to see that they live up to the charter. While the Mayor can never exercise any legislative power, yet, he has the power f recommendation, as well as the power | Health this morning. of veto, and he should use either whenever occasion requires. It was evidently the intention of the framers of the charter, that the Mayor of this city should be held responsible for the government of this city, and that there should be no divided authority.

Your contention is, however, quite the opposite, since you claim that the executive and legislative bodies are quite distinct. Yet every order passed by the Council goes to the Mayor for his approval or disapproval. This alone shows that the legislative body is only part of the governing body, and that both are directly under the Mayor, and comes responsible in a degree for all day. legislation

As I understand your reply to my communication, you do not deny the violation of the charter, but claim the Mayor was innocent and that the viola-

THE NEW RECTOR.

Impression at Christ Church.

The rain Sunday did not prevent a fair-sized congregation gathering at Christ church to listen to the first sermon from the new rector, Rev. George A. Strong.

Mr. Strong has an excellent singing and reading voice and the service was heartily and impressively led by him. He evidently has been used to a larger church as his voice as used Sunday Culhane, Chace and Westons would have filled a building twice the preached from the text, "Not to be ministered unto, but to minister." He laid much emphasis on unselfishness in religious matters and our individual duty to our church thus making it collectively a force in the communty. Not to be so absorbed in securing our Did you hear anyone remark that it own salvation that we cannot find help all about us.

TOO MUCH STUDY.

Doctors Say It Is Dangerous and Undermines the Health

The following from the Boston Friday Herald is published by request: Drs. George A. Miles and Alvah B. Dear born, members of the Somerville school board believe the pupils in the grammar schools are greatly over worked, and they gave their reasons for so thinking at Monday night's meeting of the school board.

The discussion was provoked by the majority and minority reports of the ommittee on rules upon the order of Dr. Miles, introduced at the previous meeting, asking that the rules be amended to restrict home studies in the grammar schools to pupils of the 9th grade. Home studies are now given in the 7th, 8th and 9th grades. The majority reports favored the change.

The minority report, presented by Mr Jones, said such a change would involve a revision of the course of study that most pupils between the ages of 12 and 14 needed home study, in the case of many, to keep them out of mischief; with dull pupils to keep them up with the others; also to fix the habit of study.

Dr. Miles said he had no desire to criticise the schools or the teachers; he simply criticised the course of study at present in vogue. He was convinced that they are forced to learn a great deal in a short time, and that they forget quite as quickly as they learn. They have to study too much that is not practical and too much in the even- Editors of the Daily Ledger:

Lord Roberts is sharply criticized for a mistaken policy of leniency there is an amazing outbreak of invective and abuse directed against General Kitchener; there are remonstrances in Liberal journals and from pro-Boe platforms against the barren policy of burning farms and starving the burghers in the impoverished Dutch territory, and Lord Salisbury is attacked for neglecting to inform France and the other power that the two Boer republics have been annexed, and that the Boers are no longer entitled to recognition as belligerents when they are merely rebels, guerillas and bandits.

When so many games at cross pur poses are in progress it is impossible for the public to know what is going on. The only point on which there is a general agreement is that the French government has maintained a correct atti tude during the past week, and that the English people have no reason to com plain of the reception to Mr. Kruger Lord Salisbury has clearly acted with some intelligent motive in refraining from changing the status of the Boers from belligerents to rebels.

Good Afternoon.

Home gatherings are to be encouraged on Thanksgiving day. It is a iome festival.

The Ledger will have some comments n a few days on the letters of ex-Comnissioner Cavanagh published today.

It is pleasing to note that the new Superintendent of Schools has recognized the need of spelling reform in our public schools, and that the agitation of the Daily Ledger has borne ome fruit. It may be that the graduates of the Quincy schools are not poorer spellers than those graduated in other cities, but they are not up to some of the country towns, and not as good spellers as parents have a right to expect of our schools. The move of Supt. Parlin evidently means that more attention will be given to spelling, and this is good news.

You know the difficulties under which I labored during my year as Commisdioner, the persistent misreprentations of all I did, by the local press, our opponents, and disgruntled politicians, and the refusal and negiect to commend at West Quincy for the championship any of my work. The most discouraging part of the whole business was, how- of Quincy. ever, the apparent willingness of certain people to believe any rumor circulated against me and pass it along without taking the slightest pains to investigate the facts for themselves.

Hitherto I have submitted to unjust criticism with patience, but it now ems that the fault found with me is being used to the injury of your chances or election. I will not allow that state of affairs to continue. I therefore request you to make it public, and to allow me to publish the fact, that I will n no event ask or accept any appointment under your administration.

My business affairs, as you well know, would prevent me from accepting ffice under the city government, even had I felt disposed to endure for another year the unfair treatment to which I was subjected. With best wishes for your success, and trusting that my determination is out in a sufficiently plain and emphatic manner, I remain, yours faithfully, Quincy, Nov. 27, 1900.

JOHN T. CAVANAGH.

My dear Mr. Cavanagh:-Your letter of yesterday is at hand, in which you inform me of the fact hat you would not accept an appointment under the city government in case I should be elected to the office of Mayor. I deeply appreciate the manner in which you make your announcement, and the reasons which you give. I fully realize what you say about the difficulties under which you labored during your erm of office and the unfair and even cruel treatment which you received.

I have nothing but praise for the good character of the various improvenents which were carried out under your direction, and am much gratified by the unselfish and generous position which you have now taken in my behalf.

In compliance with your request I shall not consider your name for any appointments I may be called upon to make. You are at liberty to publish your driving contests. letter to me, and I hope that you will also publish this reply at the same time. I hope that you will meet with success in all your business ventures. Yours very truly, Principal and Committee Selected for Cranch School.

The regular meeting of the School Committee was held Tuesday evening, all members were present.

NEW TEACHERS.

Dr. Hallowell reported that the vacancy at the Willard caused by the resignation of Miss Gragg had been filled by Miss White.

Superintendent Parlin reported the resignation of Miss Annie B. Kelley of the Willard, which was accepted. He also reported that the vacancy at the Massachusetts Field school had been filled by Miss Grace M. Spinney. NEW JANITORS.

It was voted that Samuel B. Turner be paid $16 per month for services at

The sub-committee on Janitor for the Cranch school reported that it had received twenty-two applications, and after consideration recommended the appointment of T. A. R. Gould. Upon vote he was elected.

In connection with this janitorship Dr. Hunting read a letter he had re ceived from an applicant, which after stating his qualifications went on to say that if the doctor would get him the position he would give him $25. The applicant's name was withheld.

He did not get the situation. Samuel D. DeForest was elected janitor of the Quincy school.

AN OVERFLOW.

The Superintendent called attentio to the crowded condition of the Quincy school, especially the first grade which now had 71 pupils. In his opinion it was little short of criminal to crowd so many into one room.

Reception to the Republican Candidates.

Hopeful Outlook for Reelection of Mayor Hall.

The Republican City Committee gave reception at headquarters Tuesday evening to the Republican candidates at the municipal election, and other invited guests, including city officials and prominent Republicans. The initation was generally accepted.

Chairman Bigelow presided, and the speakers included Mayor Hall, Candidate Bass in Ward One, Candidate Adams in Ward Two, Candidate Mc-Lennan in Ward Three, Councilman Badger of Ward Four, Candidate Nichols in Ward Five, Councilman Hill of Ward Six, Candidate Prescott for School Committee in Ward One, Principal Assessor Thompson, City Solicitor Sears, Secretary McKnight Councilman Jameson, Assessor Johnson, ohn L. Miller, E. J. Sandberg, Hiram W. Campbell and others.

The general opinion was that the adinistraiton of Mayor Keith in 1899 would not stand comparison in any particular with that of Mayor Hall. That no administration had been more rogressive or accomplished more. While credit might be given in 1899 to Mr. Keith for bringing to a head the agitation for new depots, credit should e given this year to Mayor Hall for btaining free transfers on all the street ailway routes; for obtaining the new ship yard at Quincy Point; for reducion in the tax rate; for establishing bathhouse, etc. etc. Atlantic and West Quincy claimed they never had eceived as many improvements in one year. The taxpayers felt they had reeied 100 cents for every dollar appro priated. No criticism was heard of the nanagement of any city department his year, which was an unusual state f affairs. The opinion was that the sober minded voters of Quincy, regardess of party would handsomely endorse Mayor Hall's administration at the polls next Tuesday.

The Dewetsdorp garrison, of two guns of the Sixty-eighth field battery, with detachments of the Gloucestershire reg iment, the Highland Light infantry and Irish rifles, 400 in all, surrendered at 5:30 p. m., Nov. 23. Our losses were 15 men killed and 42 wounded, including Major H. J. Anson and Captain Digby. The enemy is said to be 2500 strong. Four teen hundred men were dispatched from Edenburg, to relieve Dewetsdorp, but they did not succeed in reaching ther in time. Knox joined this force and found Dewetsdorp evacuated. Seventy-five sick and wounded had been left there Knox pursued, and is reported to have successfully engaged Steyn and Dewe near Vaalbank, Nov. 27. They retired west and southwest. The censorship continues so strict that there is no hope of arriving at a clear conception of the actual position of affairs in South Africa. For instance independent accounts of the subsequent proceedings and the recapture of Dewetsdorp give ample details, not omitting to announce the capture of two Boer wagons and a quantity of loot, but there is not the slightest mention of the surrender of 400 British troops and two

The "ubiquitous De Wet" seems again to have gotten away, and so far, there is no news that the captured British have been liberated.

The Daily Mail publishes an interview with Mr. Zidtsman, a Loyalist member of the Cape assembly, who is now in England as a delegate of the vigilance committee. Mr. Zidtsman admits the gravity of the situation, but says he does not fear a general rising, although he thinks it may be necessary to send troops to the most disaffected districts, where mob riots are likely to occur. He advocates the proclamation of martial law and expresses the opinion that "the only thing which prevents a rising is the

Dr. Rainsford Tells What It Is toward Public Schools

The address of Rev. William S Rainsford, D. D., before the Twentieth Century club at Boston, Wednesday evening on "The citizens duty to the ublic schools," has food for thought. Dr. Rainsford is rector of St. George's church of New York. He spoke from practical experience of 18 years in New York city among the children, and pointed out the conditions he has met with in his work. He said in part: "The 700 boys and girls I meet in my gymnasium are from 10 to 25 years old, and they represent the best quality of the city population. The physical measurements are terribly unsatisfactory, however. Do you not know that the future of our land as to be determined by what we turn out of our great cities, and a poor body makes a poor mind? "The cause of this abnormal condi

Cruiser Yosemite Was Unable to Stand Terrible Gale Off Island of Guam.

Sunk Shortly After She Was Abandoned by the Seamen.

Manila, Nov. 30.-The United States Luis d'Apra, island of Guam, during the orning of Nov. 13, at the rate of 100 niles an hour. The Yosemite had tw anchors down, but both dragged a mile across the harbor entrance. At 11 a. m. she struck the reef and stove in forward She drifted for an hour and at noor struck the rocks near Somaye, carrying away her rudder and damaging her pro-

A launch had been sent to find shelter but it capsized, and the occupants were They were Coxwain Evanson eaman George Aubul, Engineer J. J Macancfy and Firemen J. L. Davis and Joseph Anderson

The storm abated somewhat at 1 p n., but was then renewed with violence from the southwest. A dozen of the erew attempted to carry a line ashore but the boat capsized. All the occupants nanaged to reach the land.

Meanwhile the Yosemite was being lown seaward, her head down and the forward compartment filling. The boiler and engine room, however, were free of water, and the pumps were kept going The cruiser was kept affoat until the af ternoon of Nov. 15, when the United States collier Justin, which also had suffered damage to her anchors, but had narrowly escaped the reef, was sighted. The Justin attempted to tow the Yo semite with two chains and two cables but these parted.

Finally 138 of the Yosemite's crew, 26 narines and nine officers were transferred to the Justin, together with $68, 000 in Mexican money. The Yosemite then plunged head foremost and sank. The members of the crew were provided with temporary quarters in Agana, which suffered badly from the hurricane.

The typhoon was of unprecedented vio ence. Many are reported to have been killd or injured. At Agana three were killed and 10 died of exposure.

The town of Mooajan was destroyed 30 of the people being killed and many others injured. It is believed that there was considrable loss of life elsewhere in Guam, and all the crops were destroyed Mrs. White, wife of Major White of the marine corps, the only white woman in Agana, took refuge with her husband and Commander Seaton Schroeder, naval governor of Guam, in the cellar of the governor's mansion, which was already partly filled with water.

The U. S. S. Solace, Commander Winsow, which left San Francisco Nov. 2 for Manila, was expected to arrive at Guam Nov. 24, with supplies for the families of Governor Schdoeder and the other

The Yosemite was first commissioned April 13, 1898. She had been station ship at the island of Guam since the days of the Spanish war. She is a 16-knot converted cruiser of 6179 tons displacement and is provided with a main battery of 10 5-inch rapid fire guns, and a secondary battery of six 6-pounders and two Colt rifles. Her measurements are 391 feet in length by 48 feet, extreme breadth She has a mean draught of 20 feet 1 inch.

Just before the outbreak of the Spansh-American war the vessel was purchased by the navy department, fitted as an auxiliary cruiser and rendered effective service as one of the patrol fleet, being manned in part by the Michigan naval militia. It is said that her anchorage at Guam was off the harbor of San Luis d'Apra, and that, owing to her draft, she was obliged to lie six miles off shore. The harbor is a particularly dangerous one, owing to the existence of a rocky shoal in the middle and a particularly crooked channel. According to the naval register, the Yosemite was manned by 18 officers and 267 men, but in her capacity as station ship not all of these were required, and undoubtedly a part of them were ashore engaged in duties at the naval station This probably would be true of her commander, Seaton Schroeder, who is also governor of Guam, and who probably left the active command of the ship to the ranking lieutenant, Augustus N. Mayer.
